

TAFT'S POSITION ON JUDICIAL RECALL IS SCORED AT CONFERENCE

Clapp and Other Progressives Discuss Arizona Veto

POLITICS IN ILLINOIS

Jackpotism and Lorimer Receive Attention From Senators.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 17.—Bitter exhortation of President Taft, a promise to carry the fight for the Presidential nomination to the American Herald-Examiner, and the aid of American women, marked the closing tonight of the campaign of the Progressivemen of the Republican party as they have banded themselves to nominate Senator Eli H. Feltus, of the Republican candidate for President.

Senator Champ of Minnesota brought the denunciation of President Taft to its sharpest climax, after S-nator Cretzschmar of South Dakota had been interrupted by a woman in the audience, calling the chief executive a "chicken." In the Arizona statehood matter the "blackest chicken in all Kansas" outside the absolute despotism of an unbridled king," Senator Champ said:

"Now, whether you believe in the recall or not, I think you will agree with me that it is not for you to say whether the people of Arizona shall have the recall. We had our constitution up in Congress. We said the people of Arizona must vote on the ques-

After the union. And my friends, the President of the United States vetoed their resolution and the one was passed providing that the people of Arizona must vote again, but must vote against the recall, though they can add it into their constitution after admission.

A fine lesson to teach the people above the threshold of the admission to the union! What, think you, would say the spirits of these men whose bones lie mouldering in the battlefields of the world, if looking down they could realize that the people of admission to the union was a substitution of the electorate of a statistical man for the individual?

APPEAL TO WOMEN

On the inside, saying in this connection that he has no appeal could be made by Senator Trayford and his followers to women as well as to men.

Senator Trayford related the story of the abolition of railroad juries in this state. He called such passage the worst form of degrading bribery that existed.

"We want the laws to tell us," he continued, "what is right and what is wrong, so a man may engage in business knowing whether he is a criminal or not, without waiting to the end of a long trial, paid for by the people, which may find one man guilty and another dishonest, both engaged in the same business in the same way."

Senator Trayford was in the midst of a denunciation of "jackpotism" and the bribery of legislators, when a man giving the name of Rudolph M. Patterson, who it was not true that Senator Trayford had known, came

Senator Stephenson, and turned from him and acted the part of an ingrate.

Immediately the meeting was in progress, which was quieted only when votes had attempted to do violence to the interpreter and a politician had been speaking.

Senator Crawford then

ATTACK ON LORIMER.

Senator Lorimer came in for attacks by all the speakers, chiefly by Senator Crawford and McLaughlin. The South Dakota senator called him the product of "backpack" and "crank."

"Come upon you for this condition of the State of Iowa when the laws governing your people are the product of a backpack at Springfield and one of a few members at Washington is going there as a product of that kind of thing. But when you want to see who wants to keep him there and who does not, you don't have to put an interjection into it after the name of a President."

The speaker then closed with Senator Stephenson's name: "President Tate."

He then called the judiciary system to be put in place of a legislative and executive branch of the government and asked how many would assent to that.

He then asked how many would assent to the proposition that the people should in the future have a great power of reference to nullify the power of the legislature and declared that if he could move a vote of all, it was needed to "defend the democratic principle against a vote of great power."

"It will cause judges to keep their hands off the people and their feet off the ground," he said.

DYNAMITING

Dynamite seems to have become such a popular amusement that something must be done to stop it. And the public is taking action along this line need not concern itself whether the planting of the explosive is done by rabid unionists carrying on a relentless warfare against their employers, or by anarchists bitter against society as it is, at present constituted, or by the employers themselves or their agents in an attempt, as it is freely charged, to prejudice the public against their organized employees. All these theories have their active advocates, to whose minds no possible alternative will appeal.

In any case, the fact remains that there is too much promiscuous handling of dynamite, which the public will find it necessary to curb. Probably this will have to take the course of strictly limiting the production and sale of explosives, registering all that is in existence and denying it out to authorized persons.

The world is going to keep on growing in population, and this population with the abolition of war, famine and pestilence must be taken care of by a more highly organized form of society, with more costly machinery and more intricate forms of communication. All this will mean that with a few sticks of dynamite the means of livelihood of thousands can be destroyed by the mischievous act of a Katzenjammer. By an act of vengeance of one diseased brain directed against one fancied enemy, scores of lives may be wiped out. This is a risk too great to be run.

Angry partisans may spend their time discussing motives as they will, but they cannot deny that some one is getting too careless with rapid death.

POLITICAL TRAINING

No truism is so true as that constant training is necessary to efficiency, and this is especially so in the matter of popular government. Government requires a peculiar skill, and if the people are going to govern themselves they need to be constantly training themselves, or their work of government will be done poorly.

The people have now taken into their own hands more power than ever by means of what are known as the direct legislation amendments to the state constitution. Direct primaries were adopted two years ago, and have so far worked very well, even better than the most sanguine supporters of direct legislation had hoped for at first. Now in addition we have the initiative, referendum and recall, upon a statewide basis. It will be necessary for the people to show on the one hand that they can employ these new powers circumspectly, so that the power will not be abused, and that they will be employed efficiently when needed in order that these arms of the government will not become atrophied through disuse.

It is to be presumed that the initiative will be necessary only when it is manifest that the legislature is refusing year after year to propose and pass laws which the great majority of the people of the state demand. Such a law was that for the abolition of race track gambling, which a universal public opinion finally had a hard time to get through a reluctant legislature. The initiative will prevent the need of bringing enormous pressure to bear upon legislators when the time and patience saving device of a petition is substituted.

The next step in the advance of popular education in governmental affairs will doubtless be the short ballot. It is evident that the voters as such can educate themselves regarding all the state offices to be filled, but it is also apparent that they do not wish to do so. The average voter is not concerned as to who holds the minor offices, provided only that the work be efficiently performed. The defect of short ballot propositions in the last session of the legislature was secured not through the legislators as representatives of the people but through legislators as friends of various office holders, who thought that they might not be able to hold their jobs under new conditions.

Not a voter in the state but who not only knows who is running for governor but who wants to know all about the governor and will do all within his power to keep track of his actions. The glaring light of publicity is thrown upon that office as upon no other. The reduction of the length of the ballot will provide for an administration of the departments at Sacramento through the governor that the people choose, making him responsible through his election and the power of recall which may be invoked.

It is very possible that the coming session of the legislature may be called upon to consider certain short ballot propositions which failed of favorable consideration at the regular session.

Putting the thing on the very worst possible basis if United States senators like Stephenson must buy their jobs, why not leave them the positions directly from the people instead of from the legislators, who do not own them.

Dawn of World Peace

By William Howard Taft

President of the United States

The development of the doctrine of international arbitration considered from the standpoint of its ultimate benefits to the human race, is the most vital movement of modern times in its relation to the well-being of the men and women of this and ensuing generations. It exceeds in importance the proper solution of various economic problems which are constant themes of legislative discussion or enactment. It is engaging the attention of many of the most enlightened minds of the civilized world. It receives impetus from the influence of churches, regardless of denominational differences. Societies of noble-minded women, organizations of worthy men, are giving their moral and material support to governmental agencies in their effort to eliminate causes of war, disputes which frequently have led to armed conflicts between nations.

The progress already made is a distinct step in the direction of a higher civilization. It gives hope for the distant future of the end of militarism, with its stupendous, crushing burdens upon the working population of the leading countries of the Old World, and forebodes a decisive check to the tendency toward tremendous expenditures for military purposes by governments that have been, and still are piling up enormous debts for posterity to liquidate, and insure to multitudes of men now involuntarily doing service in armies and navies employment in peaceful, productive pursuits.

Perhaps some wars have contributed to the uplift of organized society; more often the benefits were utterly eclipsed by the ruthless waste and slaughter and suffering that followed. The principle of justice to the weak as well as to the strong prevailing to an extent heretofore unknown to the world, has been the result of the great misuses and not being sacrificed, as in former times, to the selfishness, ambitions and aggrandizement of sovereigns, or to the intrigues of statesmen unwilling to surrender their scepter of power. Religious wars happily are specters of a medieval or ancient past, and the Christian Church is turning its efforts to fulfill its destiny of "peace on earth."

If the United States has a mission, besides developing the principles of the brotherhood of man into a living, palpable force, it seems to me that it is to blaze the way to universal arbitration among the nations, and bring them into more complete unity than ever before existed. It is known to the world that we do not covet the territory of our neighbor, or seek the acquisition of lands on other continents. We are free of such foreign entanglements as frequently conduce to embarrassing complications, and the efforts we make in behalf of international arbitration cannot be regarded with a suspicion of ulterior motives. The spirit of justice governs our relations with other countries, and therefore we are especially qualified to set a pace for the rest of the world.

ENLARGE PEACE SCOPE
The principle and scope of international arbitration as embodied in the treaties recently negotiated by the United States with Great Britain and France, should commend itself to the American people. These treaties go a step beyond any similar instruments which have received the sanction of the United States, or the two foreign powers signed. They enlarge the field of arbitral subjects embraced in the treaties ratified by the three governments in 1908. They lift into the realm of discussion and hearing, before some kind of a tribunal, many of the causes of war which have made history such a sickening chronicle of rage and cruelty, bloodshed and destruction.

These treaties have not yet been approved by the United States Senate, which, under the Constitution, is a part of the treaty-making power of our government. A majority of the Committee on Foreign Relations of that distinguished body, whose function is to report, or without favorable recommendation, upon all subjects affecting our dealings with other nations, have concluded that the treaties as presented to the Senate for ratification infringe in one respect upon its constitutional prerogatives. In its judgment this is an erroneous view. Instead of such invasion, the treaties really recognize in the Senate a larger power of treaty-making than the majority of the committee concede. The treaties subtract nothing from the Senate's traditional and valid powers. An able minority of the Committee on Foreign Relations have liberally reflected this point, and declare that the treaties are neutral, or at the moment even hostile to these powers, will, I hope, convince the majority of their error.

But while the majority of the committee remain to be persuaded, the issue should be thoroughly understood by the American people, to whom both branches of the Federal Government are accountable, and whose judgment, in some effective and unequivocal way, will record itself. I am far from desiring a contest with the Senate. I am one of those who appreciate most highly the plan of government devised by our forefathers in the most admirable features of that framework is the Senate, with its various functions, and I should be the last to seek to deprive it of any of them.

The Executive has powers in respect to treaties equal at least to those of the Senate. If these treaties deprive the Senate of its power, it can not delegate, they deprive the Executive of the same power. It is my duty to be as careful not to give up any power entrusted to me by the constitution, and not to yield to any suggestion upon it, as the Senate must be in respect of its constitutional functions. I am, as I am with this duty of guarding executive power, I cannot, for the life of me, see any improper parting with any power in the making of these treaties. They bind me quite as much as the Senate, but I fear nothing of evil from their enactment.

WHAT TREATIES MEAN
After years of patient endeavor by men of various nations, and despite many obstacles and discouragements, there has been established at The Hague a Permanent Court of Arbitration to which conflicting governments may submit certain classes of controversies for arbitration. This court has already justified its position and existence by the settlement of contentions which in other days led to disastrous wars, and even in this enlightened age might have precipitated serious ruptures. The United States government, as represented by the National Administration, is ready to utilize the method of settling international disputes to a greater extent than ever before. The treaties now pending in the Senate enlarge the scope of arbitral subjects; that is, we are willing to refer to this tribunal, or a similar one, questions which heretofore have been left entirely to diplomatic negotiation.

The treaties are further providing for the creation of a Joint High Commission, to which shall be referred, for impartial and conscientious investigation any controversy between this government, on one hand, and Great Britain or France on the other, before such a controversy has been submitted to an arbitral bench from which there is no appeal. And assuming that governments, like individuals, do not always display, while a suit is in progress, that calmness of judgment and equanimity which are so consistent with righteous department, provision is made for the passion to subside and the bias to cool, by deferring the reference of such controversy to the Joint High Commission for one year. This affords an opportunity for diplomatic adjustment without an appeal to the commission.

This commission is to consist of three national representatives each government; that is, three Americans and three Britons or three Frenchmen, in the case may be. It is empowered to inquire into the matter in controversy, and report to the respective governments such recommendations and conclusions as may be reached. Then the dispute is ready for final arbitration, and if the Senate, concurring with the Executive, so determines, it will be submitted to The Hague for definite award or decision. Thus, under the treaties, the United States may go direct to the Permanent Court of Arbitration at The Hague, or proceed first to the intermediate tribunal known as the Joint High Commission, but in every instance the Senate's right to assent to or dissent from the procedure is respected and preserved. The report of the Joint High Commission is designed to be only advisory, and not binding upon either party except in one respect; that is, where there is a difference as to whether the question at issue is subject to arbitration under the first article of the treaties, or not. Then, five out of six of the members of the commission must so decide, and that verdict is conclusive upon both governments. It is upon this single feature that the Executive and a majority of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations are at variance.

SENATE'S OBJECTION
Since this is the nub of the issue between the Senate and the Administration, let us make the matter clear. The first article of the treaties binds the parties (the executive branches of the different governments) to submit to The Hague or some other court of arbitration all justiciable differences hereafter arising between them, and defines justiciable as covering controversies international in character, to which the two nations are parties, and which can be settled by the application of the principles of law or equity. It provides that the submission of a question, when it arises, shall be by special agreement of the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, and by Great Britain or France, in accordance with their constitutional provisions. Clause 3 of Article III, which the Senate has been advised by its committee to expunge, states:

It is further agreed, however, that in cases in which the parties disagree as to whether or not a difference is subject to arbitration under Article I, all or all but one of the members of the commission agree and report that such difference is within the scope of Article I, it shall be referred to arbitration in accordance with the provisions of this treaty.

The majority of the Committee on Foreign Relations contend that this obligation to accept the decision of the commission as to whether a matter is justiciable deprives the Senate of the right to consent and advise as to a special agreement of submission, which is provided for in all cases arising under Article I. In which both parties conceive the question arising to be justiciable, and an arbitrable. This interpretation is not justified, and the very language of the treaty, which I have quoted, proves it. This language does not impair and cannot fairly be construed as changing in any way, in cases arising under Article III, the procedure with reference to special agreements consented to by the Senate under Article I. In cases arising under Article I, the executive branches of the government concerned decide at the outset that the question is justiciable, and should be submitted to arbitration. In the latter case, the commission so decides; but in both cases the subsequent procedure is the same.

Why may not the Senate bind itself to abide the judgment of a properly constituted tribunal in the event of particular question is within the description of the terms justiciable? The Senate has already in many cases agreed to abide the result of arbitration in certain classes of cases arising in the future, and among these are many involving the construction of treaties. Now what is the agreement at which the majority of the Foreign Relations Committee hesitate? It is nothing but an agreement to abide the judgment of the Joint High Commission in respect to the construction of the first clause of this treaty, to wit: Whether an issue hereafter arising is within its terms and is controlled by them. That is the form in which the question of the construction of most treaties is presented in international controversies. An analysis of the objection made by the majority of the Senate committee shows it utterly untenable, because such an objection, if sound, would prevent its agreeing to submit any issue arising in the future to the construction of a treaty, to arbitration.

A PLEDGE OF OUR GOOD FAITH
This submission to the final decision of the Joint High Commission of the question, whether a controversy is arbitrable or not, is as important as any part of this treaty. It is the pledge of our good faith that we are entering ourselves to a contract which we intend to keep, even if the decision under it is contrary to our view. It makes strong the analogy between these treaties and contracts between individuals, which in case of future differences must come before a court with power to decide, and to bind the parties by the decision. The view of the majority of the Senate committee seems to be that we ought to reserve the right and privilege of deciding for ourselves whether an issue is arbitrable until it arises and we have a chance to determine whether it is for our best to submit it. This is to take out of the treaty the chief feature of its future. It is to make the treaty nothing but a general declaration that we are favorable to arbitration, and, in effect, to say that we will arbitrate anything in the future that we do not think will injure us to arbitrate. This is the progress at all. A treaty, to be useful for our purpose, ought to be a self-denying ordinance, one which binds us to submit our differences in the future to the decision of some tribunal, whether, when the issue arises, we may like to do so or not. To treat these international agreements as effective to bring us before a tribunal only when we think they ought to be, is to rob them of much of their efficiency and usefulness. If they are to do the good we all hope, they ought to bind us firmly when we do not wish to be bound. They ought to compel us to arbitrate when we could rather not submit the question to an impartial tribunal. An agreement which leaves the parties to arbitrate when it suits them is a pact that is written in water, and might as well not have been made. Now, I do not say that this would be the effect of striking out the third clause, because the first clause constructed in the form of the public opinion of the world would have the same force to compel our Executive and our Senate to submit questions plainly within its description to arbitrate; but were there any room for dispute, the question of the arbitrable character of the issue should be submitted to a tribunal different from the parties themselves. The third clause is not as strong, and not as satisfactory to me as it is left to The Hague or other tribunal of arbitration under the first clause of the treaty, to decide whether any controversy arising is within the description of that clause, and so arbitrable under the treaty. Such a clause is contained in a treaty between Norway and Sweden relating to arbitration as to certain classes of treaties. It follows the analogy of the power of a court of superior jurisdiction to determine finally for the parties that the case arising is within its power to decide. The plan of submission to a joint high commission, composed of three citizens of each of one party and the same number of citizens of the other, to the fear of being too tightly bound to an adverse decision made manifest in the objections of the Senate committee, because it may well be supposed that two out of three citizens or subjects of one party would decide that an issue was arbitrable under the treaty, against the contention of their own country, unless it were reasonably clear that the issue was justiciable under the first clause of the treaty.

STEP TOWARD WORLD PEACE
Ultimately, I hope, we shall come to submit our quarrels to an international arbitral court that will have power finally to decide upon the limits of our own jurisdiction, and the limits of the jurisdiction of other nations, and the obligation of the country complained of, to answer to a form prescribed, shall be recognized and definite, and the judgment shall be either acquiesced in, or enforced. These treaties are a substantial step, but a step only, in that direction, and the feature of the binding character of the decision of the Joint High Commission as to the arbitrable character of the question is the most distinctive advance in the right direction. Do not let us give up this feature without using every legitimate effort to retain it.

An understanding of the term justiciable may be essential to a full comprehension of the significance and scope of these treaties. Questions involving boundary lines, the rights of fishermen in waters bordering upon countries with contiguous territory, the question of water-power, the erection of structures on frontiers, outrages upon aliens, are examples of justiciable subjects, and these are made susceptible of adjudication and decision under these treaties. It is now proposed to establish a permanent method of disposing of such questions without preliminary quarrels and menaces whose result may never be foreseen.

Certain questions of government or traditional policy are by their very nature excluded from the consideration of the Joint High Commission, or even the Permanent Court of Arbitration at The Hague. Such specific exemptions it is not necessary to set forth in the treaties. Objection has been made that under the first section of the pending pact it might be claimed that we would be called upon to submit to arbitration the Monroe Doctrine, or our rights to exclude foreign powers from our shores, or the question of the validity of southern bonds issued in reconstruction days.

The Monroe Doctrine is not a justiciable question, but one of purely governmental policy, which we have followed for nearly a century, and in which the countries of Europe have generally acquiesced. With respect to the exclusion of immigrants it is a principle of international law that every country may admit only those whom it chooses. This is a subject of domestic policy in which no foreign country can interfere, unless it is covered by a treaty, and then it may become properly a matter of treaty construction.

With reference to the right to vote the United States in a controversy over the obligation of certain southern states to pay bonds issued during reconstruction which have been repudiated, it is sufficient to say that the pending treaties affect only cases hereafter arising, and the cases of the southern bonds all arose years ago. I think I have alluded to all the objections that are seriously made.

With the ratification of the treaties with Great Britain and France, we may expect to see the first case submitted to the Joint High Commission. It is a matter of course that the first case will be one of the most important of the kind. It will be a test case, and its decision will be a landmark in the history of international arbitration. It will be a case in which the world will be watching the progress of the new method of settling disputes. It will be a case in which the world will be seeing the first step toward world peace.

There is a Fresno citizen who testified years ago that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved sick kidneys, and now states the cure was permanent. Can any sufferer from kidney trouble ask better proof? You can investigate. The case is right at home.

Mrs. L. A. Anstean, 61 G street, Fresno, Calif., says: "The cure Doan's Kidney Pills effected in my case some years ago has been permanent. I suffered intensely from kidney trouble, and a weak and painful back. The kidney secretions were also unnatural, and showed that my kidneys were at fault. When about in despair from not finding relief, I was persuaded to try Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the Baker & Colson Drug Co. They so rid me of the trouble and improved my condition in every way. I shall always recommend Doan's Kidney Pills in return for the permanent cure they gave me."

WOMAN'S PART IN WAR.

The evil of war, and what follows in its train, I need not dwell upon. We could not have a higher object than the adoption of any proper and honorable means which would lessen the chance of armed conflicts. Men endure great physical hardships in camp and on the battle-field. In our Civil War the death-roll in the Union army alone reached the appalling aggregate of 359,000. But the suffering and perils of the men in the field, distressing as they are to contemplate, are slight in comparison with the woes and anguish of the women who are left behind. The hope that husband, brother, father, son, may be spared the tragic end which all soldiers risk, when they respond to their country's call, buoy them up in their privations and heart-breaking loneliness. But theirs is the deepest pain, for the most poignant suffering is mental rather than physical. No pension compensates for the loss of husband, son, or father. The glory of death in battle does not feed the orphaned children, nor does the pomp and circumstance of war clothe them. The woes of the women of America should appeal to every patriotic heart.

TAKE HEART.
All day the storm and wind has blown
From off the dark and rainy sea;
The birds have past the window flown,
The only song has been the moan.
The wind makes in the willow tree.

This is the summer's burial time;
She died when dropped the earliest leaves,
And, cold upon her rosy prime,
Fell dreifal autumn's frosty rim—
Yet I am not as one that grieves.

For well I know o'er sunny seas
The bluebird waits for sunny skies;
And at the roots of forest trees
May flowers sleep in fragrant ease,
And violets hide their azure eyes.

O thou, by winds of grief overblown
Beside some golden summer's bier—
Take heart! Thy birds are only flown.
Thy blossoms sleeping, fearful dawn.
To greet thee in the immortal year!

GENERAL CONDITIONS
During the last 24 hours there has been a very rapid decrease in barometric pressure over the plateau as a whole. The highest pressure still covers Washington and Oregon and fair weather has prevailed under this distribution of pressure from the Pacific to the Mississippi river. A low depression has moved slowly eastward over the great lakes causing general rains from the lakes to the Gulf. The rain has fallen along the immediate Atlantic seaboard but cloudy unsettled conditions obtain. In the coast sections of California some very high temperatures were recorded yesterday afternoon, though the plains and Mississippi valley it is cooler.
No storm has yet appeared on the Pacific coast, there has been no rain in the Pacific states during the last 24 hours and generally clear skies are reported this morning except in the extreme north. Weather may be expected in Fresno and vicinity tonight and Wednesday.

SULTANA RAISINS ARE IN DEMAND IN EAST

Majority of Packers Now Want 6c f. o. b. Fresno; Still Bearing.
Sultana raisins are now receiving a great deal of attention in the East, according to advices received from there yesterday. The demand for high cost of the imported fruit is said to be responsible for the activity.
Some business at 5 1/2-6 cents, f. o. b. was put through recently on steamer shipments from California, but it is asserted that nothing more is to be had at that price. The local packers are now being made to the East at 5 1/2-6 cents, f. o. b. Fresno, but it is said that a large number of the local packers are refusing to sell under 6 cents.
The Eastern markets are completely saturated with Sultana and Thompson raisins and this is given as one of the reasons for the activity. It is also said that the trade is buying because there has been less of a tendency to endeavor to manipulate the market in these goods than in any other class of raisins.
Reports received here yesterday also indicate that the efforts of some of the local packers to bear down prices have not ceased. Instances have been recorded of offering made at 5 1/2-6 cents for fancy seeded goods in one pound cartons for early November shipment. The majority of the local packers are said to be refusing to conform at this figure.
From present indications the loose muscatels and cluster and layer raisins will be very short this year. The short crop has not decreased the demand for seeded goods and as a consequence, the seeded output will be as large as in former years, according to all calculations. This will result in a shortening of the output of loose goods and layers.

WHY MEN BREAK DOWN

Europeans cannot understand why American men so often break down in health at early years or younger, just when the Englishman or German is in the very prime of his manhood. But the American throws himself so fully into his daily work that he speedily uses up his reserve strength. He has many men, long working hours and business worries will soon use up his man unless he is very careful. For the worn-out, overworked man, nothing is so good to build him up and help him stand the terrible strain as Vinol. It is delicious and lively and tonic. It is refreshing to the blood and fortifies the body that it gives him new normal strength. Try Vinol at our risk—we pay back the money if you are not pleased. IN THE LODGE ROOM

WOODMEN OF WORLD
The attendance at the weekly meeting of the Woodmen of the World last night was above the average. There were 100 members present. Arthur E. Chapman, Carl L. Moine and George Ryland were elected to membership. J. H. Neal was initiated. It was reported that C. C. Laelling and Robert Langworthy are progressing nicely. E. C. Van Allen, who had his hand mangled recently, was present. A letter was received from J. C. Kline, who has been sick in Los Angeles, stating that he was getting along very slowly but hoped to be out soon.
The managers, who were instructed to change the by-laws to conform with the report of the committee at the last meeting, the sections to be changed and the matter will be taken up as a special order next week. One of the radical changes is that the clerk will be forbidden to carry any member longer than one month the same to be effective on January 1st, 1912.
Harry White was installed as manager. Henry Hawson, Teller was made by David A. Beaver of Livingston, O. E. Starks of Selma, and M. R. Ewing of Santa Cruz. The managers were instructed to secure an electric sign to be placed at the entrance to the hall, so that all members will be sure to find their way to the new location of Mammoth Camp.
During the social hour a rock trial was put on. E. C. Van Allen bringing charges of extortion against J. L. Hutchison, which caused much merriment, the defendant finally being found not guilty and the plaintiff charged with being drunk to remain in camp for his record on next Tuesday night.
RED MEN MEET
Fifteen (15), O. E. M. met in regular session last night and adopted two resolutions and received application from one more. A letter was put on the work in a creditable manner. The social committee announced a social dance for members, their friends and ladies for next Tuesday evening, October 24th. Much enthusiasm was displayed by the members in the membership campaign which closes on November 15th.

PRODUCTION OF WHEAT GOES ABOVE ESTIMATE

International Institute Issues Its Bulletin for September.
The Bulletin of Agricultural Statistics for September has just been issued under the direction of Prof. Umberto Ricci, by the International Institute of Agriculture.
The bulletin contains the most recent official data received at the institute from the various countries in regard to the production of the cereal crops in the Northern Hemisphere. The production of wheat for the present year, in the group of countries included in the bulletin, which represents about four-fifths of the world's total wheat production, is estimated at 529,782,823 quintals as compared with a production of 525,522,642 quintals last year. The Single Numerical Statement, i. e., the ratio in percentage between the present and the previous year, is 100.5. The production for the present year exceeds that of the past year in Spain (42,800,000 quintals) as compared with 37,400,000 quintals; Great Britain and Ireland (17,400,000 quintals) as compared with 16,400,000 quintals; Hungary (52,400,000 quintals) as compared with 49,400,000 quintals; Italy (53,300,000 quintals) as compared with 41,700,000; and India (100,300,000 quintals) as compared with 97,400,000 quintals. The production of wheat is smaller this year as compared with last year's production in Prussia (25,560,000 quintals) as compared with 24,800,000 quintals; Roumania (26,000,000 quintals) as compared with 30,200,000 quintals; Russia in Europe (163,300,000 quintals) as compared with 123,300,000 quintals; and in the United States (179,200,000 quintals) as compared with 189,300,000 quintals.
For the other cereals, the Single Numerical Statement for the present year is: barley, 99.5; oats, 98.9; and maize, 96.8.
The two countries which, due to their poor harvests have principally contributed to the fall in the figures of the Single Numerical Statement are the United States and Russia.
The Bulletin also contains information as to the condition of the cotton crop, which in the United States and Japan promises about an average harvest, and in Egypt an outlook about 3 per cent below the average.
Of special interest is a comparison which has been made between the estimates of the present year's wheat production, as published by certain influential private periodicals and the official figures published by the Institute. The differences brought to light by this comparison, and which in several instances are very considerable, illustrate the utility of the work accomplished by the Institute in thus exercising a control upon the large number of harvest estimates which are placed before the public by furnishing, in one synthetic report, the official figures of production for the whole world.

BOOTBLACK CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLEMENT

Francisco Scavetta, who is wanted here on a charge of petit embezzlement, was arrested yesterday at Meripola, according to word received by the Fresno police yesterday afternoon. Scavetta will be brought to the county jail today and it is probable that he will then be charged with grand larceny as he is alleged to have stolen a horse and buggy. Scavetta was arrested on complaint of J. D. Dinnis, proprietor of a bootblack stand. The complaining witness claims that he left Scavetta in charge of his bootblack stand and that the defendant pilfered open the money drawer and made away with $2.65.

MUCH BIDDING FOR LEMOORE SEWER JOB

LEMOORE, Oct. 17.—By elimination process, the board of trustees of Lemoore hope to let the contract next Monday night for the new sewer system, for which bonds have been voted. The first bids were too high and last night only two bids were received. The lowest was William H. Hays, bidding $14,110.40. J. Howard Bell of Lemoore, the next lowest, offered to knock off $809 if the outfall pipe were changed to vitrified. This met with approval and it was decided to ask Hays and Bell to submit new bids.

SETTLERS ON RESERVES NEED NOT PAY SURVEY

Two Cabinet Secretaries Agree to Lift Burden From Homesteader.
Settlers on national forests under the act of June 11, 1906 will no longer have to pay for a survey, as they had in the past on unsurveyed lands, when the claim was to be patented. This relieves many settlers under the act, commonly known as the Forest Homestead Law, from a burdensome expense. Relief from this burden has been brought about by an agreement between the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of Agriculture, whereby surveys made by employees of the forest service will under the supervision of the Surveyor General so that they can be accepted by the General Land Office as final.
Hitherto it has been necessary to make two surveys. Under the terms of the Forest Homestead Law, national forest land can not be opened to settlement unless the Secretary of Agriculture has recommended to the Secretary of the Interior that it will be listed for settlement; the listing is not possible until a survey has been made. The Secretary of Agriculture has no authority to list any land unless an examination has shown that the land is more suitable for agriculture than for forest purposes. So when land is applied for by employees of the Department of Agriculture are sent to ascertain its character, and at the same time make a survey of it by miles and bounds if a survey is necessary.
This survey, however, could not be accepted by the land department as a basis for patent, because only surveys under the supervision of the Surveyor General can be used for this purpose. As a basis for passing title. In consequence, under the procedure provided for when patent is sought to unsurveyed lands, the settler on land within a National Forest has had to pay for a second survey. This has been felt to be especially hard because it has subjected settlers to "National Forest" charges, which are levied on surveyed lands do not have to bear. Since it merely duplicated the work of the first survey, there seems no reason why this first survey might not answer both for listing the land and for patenting it.
The survey for listing, made by forest officers, has always been without expense to the prospective homesteader. Under the new arrangement the field expenses of the survey will continue to be paid by the Department of Agriculture, so that the applicant will merely be called on to meet the cost of checking up and platting the surveys by the surveyor general. This will move one of the greatest objections to the working of the Forest Homestead Law. The officials of both the Department of Agriculture and the Department of the Interior are pleased that the way has been found, through co-operation in the survey, to simplify the procedure and cut out a duplication of work and lessen the cost of settling upon agricultural lands within National Forests.

PROHIBITIONISTS TO HOLD 3 CONFERENCES

Workers Will Gather to Plan Campaign to Make Whole State Dry.
The prohibitionists of this state will hold three Workers' Conferences during this fall and early winter. The first conference will be held at Turlock, and the date is fixed for November 10th. The second will be held November 21st, probably in Oakland. The last one will be in Los Angeles, on December 12th. Prominent party leaders will be present, including Hon. N. W. Atwood, nominee for lieutenant governor in the last campaign; Hon. C. P. Moore of Oakland; C. J. Kline, managing editor of the Pacific Prohibitionist; State Chairman James H. Woertendyke; Hon. S. P. Meads of Oakland, nominee for governor in the last campaign; Rev. F. W. Emerson of San Francisco; and A. C. Banta, State Grand Chief Templar of the I. O. O. F. Already much interest is being manifested in these meetings, and the move for a dry state will doubtless be supported from all parts of California.
The railroads have arranged to make a reduced rate for those wishing to attend these conferences.

ATTEMPTED TO BURN CALABOOSE AT EXETER

Earl O'Brien Under Arrest on the Charge of Jail Breaking.

VISALIA, Oct. 17.—Earl O'Brien was this morning brought from Exeter and lodged in the county jail to answer to a charge of jail breaking. O'Brien last evening attempted to burn his way out of the Exeter calaboose in which he had been confined for intoxication. O'Brien and a man named Moebbeck went to Hanford, where they accumulated a drunk of considerable proportions. They returned to Exeter where O'Brien became noisy and was arrested along with Moebbeck. He was confined in the wooden calaboose. O'Brien made two attempts to burn the building and the two occupants had a narrow escape from being burned to death.

PROPOSE AUTO BUS LINE TO OROSI

DINUBA, Oct. 17.—A movement has been started by a number of business men of this community to raise funds for the backing of an auto bus line to run between this city and North Dinuba and Oroquieta, making several regular trips daily and connecting with Santa Fe trains. It is stated that such a line would be a great benefit to this community, although it is doubtful if it would prove a money-making proposition. Some of the business men have expressed a willingness to back the plan in order to help out anyone who could be secured to operate the line.

DINUBA P. S. BANK HAS 2 QUIET DAYS

DINUBA, Oct. 17.—The new postal savings bank which opened here yesterday morning, did not seem to be the popular thing that it was expected to be. The first day there was only one depositor and it is understood that the bank placed the large sum of $1 in the keeping of Uncle Sam. Today there has been no deposit made. It is understood that one man sought to place $1,000 on deposit at one time this morning. Deposits cannot be made for more than $100 on any one day, and the limit for a month is $500.

SECOND TRIAL FOR ROBBERY.

HANFORD, Oct. 17.—The trial of William Saling, accused of robbing Robt. Markies, a fellow camper at the river south of Lemoore during a fishing season, was taken up before Judge T. J. Conner today. A former trial resulted in a disagreement of the jury.

NEW DISCIPLE FOR HAPPINESS CULT

Californian Tells How He Was Converted to New Ideas.

"I want to announce myself as a disciple of this new Hope cult," said a man who was reading in the papers about Prof. Munyon's plan to establish a great happiness society, that it was just a fad and nothing much would come of it. Now I want to say that I know differently—because Munyon has certainly made me a happy man.

These are the words of Mr. H. J. McDermitt of Bunk, Cal., who came to visit the large new offices of Prof. James M. Munyon, who maintains his headquarters in Fresno, in the Forsyth building. He continued:

"Everybody should investigate this new method of treatment for rheumatism which Prof. Munyon has been introducing here. It is the most marvelous thing any man can ask. I had a case of rheumatism that lasted eight years. I was in a terrible condition. My joints were sore and stiff, and at times I couldn't move. I tried everything. I believe, and several physicians tried to help me, but nothing did any good for more than a short time. When I went up to Munyon's office and took his medicines, and, say—the change was like lightning. Within a week every particle of my rheumatism disappeared and I felt like another man. I am enthusiastic about Munyon, and I feel like making it my business to tell the public what a wonderful treatment he has. Most doctors take a man's money and don't care about the results, but Munyon actually cures. I know what I am talking about, for he actually cured me."

Cheap Fuel

Gas is the cheapest fuel. Your monthly gas bill will not exceed your bill for coal, wood or gasoline; and at the same time when using gas you cut the amount of work required in half. Think of it. Absolutely nothing to carry in to the stove or no ashes to carry out.

OWNERSHIP CHANGED IN SELMA CREAMERY

Purchasers to Enlarge the Plant and Handle All Cream Offered.

SELMA, Oct. 17.—Papers were completed here today whereby the ownership of the Selma Creamery, formerly owned by T. W. Johnson, has been transferred to A. L. Barker of San Francisco, and W. E. Street of this place. With the change of ownership there will probably also be a change of name, as the new proprietors will conduct the establishment under the corporate style of Valley View Creamery. This is the name by which Selma's cream quality butter has been so long and favorably known in butter markets.

The change of ownership comes as very welcome news to the present patrons of the creamery, and will also result in greatly building up the business of the local plant, as much cream will now be taken in here that has been sent to other towns. The past management has been excellent but the new proprietors are able to put in an additional amount of capital which will put the Selma creamery on a much larger basis. The new proprietors are to begin at once the work of putting the entire plant in first class order and prepare for the increased output which they expect to handle.

PUPILS ARE DENIED CLASS ADMISSION

Hundred Students Are Turned Down Because Facilities Are Lacking.

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 17.—According to the figures which have been given out by Superintendent Chas. T. Conner, who is the head of the High School of this city, during the past month's admission to various departments of the school has been denied to about 100 students by reason of lack of room and lack of equipment.

These denials include twenty-five applications to the manual training and woodwork classes; thirty applications for domestic science classes and thirty applications to the commercial courses, in addition to a few each to the physics, laboratory, chemical laboratory, and agriculture and plant breeding classes.

In the commercial rooms the typewriters are busy from 8 o'clock in the morning until 8 at night, and relays of students are using the apparatus in the physics and chemistry laboratory.

Almost all of the Freshman classes are being taught in divisions and these divisions are too large for the best work, since lack of class rooms makes it necessary to put the students in as large units as possible.

These conditions are the basis upon which the board of education is asking for a considerable bond issue, which is to be voted upon at once and the exact size of which will be given in a report from the architect who is now at work on the plans and specifications for the three new buildings which it is planned to add.

DINUBA NEWS NOTES

DINUBA, Oct. 17.—The construction of the new Dinuba sanitarium is progressing and the brick walls are already up above the first floor. The order has been placed for the equipment for the operating room for the institution.

A census of the auto owners of this city yesterday showed there are thirty-six machines owned in town and more than thirty more are owned in the immediate vicinity. It is proposed to have every one of the autos present in the gathering of cars upon the occasion of the dedication to be given the state highway commissioners upon their visit to this part of the state in the viewing of the proposed routes of the new highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Zella Dunnegan, who were recently married here, have returned from their honeymoon trip and are residing in the cottage just east of the Bates residence.

The second game of Rugby football to be played by the Dinuba high school team, will take place at the local field Saturday afternoon, when the squad here will meet the team from the Lemoore high school.

J. C. Ensign of Hanford has purchased a lot here and will begin at once the erection of a modern cottage on the same. The property is located near the home of his son, H. W. Ensign, and it is reported that while the place will be for rent for a time, yet the Ensigns propose to later move here and occupy the place themselves.

SPOUSE JAILED FOR PESTERING HIS WIFE

Because her husband is alleged to have bothered her in the place she is employed, Mrs. R. H. Haugh appeared before Judge Briggs yesterday and swore to a complaint charging Harry P. Haugh with disturbing the peace. Haugh was arrested last night by Patrolman E. J. Jones and will be jailed here until morning.

According to Mrs. Haugh, she has not lived with her husband for two years, and she said he continually pesters her around the restaurant where she works. Mrs. Haugh also declared that her husband visited her apartments and bothered her and that she wanted the law to deal with him.

ENTERS GUILTY PLEA TO JAIL BREAKING

VISALIA, Oct. 17.—Mike Burke, brought back from Arizona, on a charge of jail breaking, he with Mike Lantry, having escaped from the local county jail a few months ago, will be sentenced tomorrow morning by Judge Wallace. Burke entered a plea of guilty. Five years is the maximum penalty for jail breaking. Burke was being held for the burglary of the Wilson store in this city but would have been liberated if the evidence was insufficient to convict.

ATTEMPT MADE TO BURN CHINESE GARDEN HOUSE

Recalls Tragedy of August When Three Chinamen Were Killed.

HANFORD, Oct. 17.—An attempt was made to burn the living quarters of the Nom Sing Co. Chinamen garden one mile west of Hanford shortly before midnight today and the murders which occurred there in August are recalled. On the night of August 13th, so the story ran at the time, two masked robbers entered the living quarters and ordered the seven Chinamen who sat eating their supper around a table to throw up their hands, began shooting and killed two outright, one dying afterward in a San Francisco hospital. It was privately stated by the Chinese that Americans did the work and that the Chinamen were in trouble between the Chinese was denied.

For the first time since the murders the place was left entirely alone last night when the Chinese came to town to attend a birthday party of one of their number held in Chinatown in Hanford. About 11 o'clock two of the Chinamen went home and as they approached the place they heard three shots. At first they were afraid to go to the living quarters, but after a few minutes they went to the house and found the interior full of smoke and flames. They rushed in and found that someone had set fire to a bunk in the room and escaped. They dragged the burning bunk out of the house and succeeded in saving the building. This morning a report was made by the Chinese, but from other sources the incident came to the sheriff's office and investigation substantiated the story. It is apparent that someone is trying to drive the Nom Sing Co. out of business and this new circumstance strengthens the theory held by the officers at the time of the murders that the killing was done by Chinese and not by Americans. No clue to the attempted arson last night has been found but the officers are working on it. It is believed that the three fired and heard the retreating robbers were fired to keep off the several savage dogs which are kept by the Nom Sing Co.

ARREST MEGGLADERRY IN REDWOOD CITY

Realty Salesman Is Accused of Passing Worthless Check in Hanford.

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 17.—M. L. Meggladerry, the alleged check artist, who made his headquarters in this city for the past several months and has been charged in the sale of stolen goods, was arrested yesterday in the Redwood City district and is being brought back to Hanford to answer to the charge of having passed a bad check on the proprietor of the Export Hotel in this city.

Meggladerry, who for years has been the circulation manager of a San Francisco newspaper, and who is well known all over the state, can trace his downfall, the officers say, to his infatuation for a woman of the Porterville demimonde, and his arrest was due to his following her to a resort in Redwood City.

In addition to the Hanford charge, it is said that Meggladerry's employer, W. L. Coffey, who is the owner of the property for which he acted as a salesman, is now preparing the evidence to serve as a charge of embezzlement. Coffey claims that Meggladerry secured from his clients the past payments on various pieces of property, and rather than turning in these funds, he turned them to his own use.

Meggladerry was the agent of Coffey, the loss will fall upon the owner of the property.

Coffey states that when his agent started out on the sale of this property, he was not only honest, apparently, but he was unusually successful as a salesman.

DRIVING CLUB PLANS MATINEE OF RACES

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 17.—Early of the horse owners of this district attended the second regular meeting of the Porterville Driving Club. Reports were filed showing that the repairs to the track have been made at a net cost of not to exceed $100.

Members of the club from the Porterville Motorcyclists and they stated to the directors that they will join with the driving club in making a success of the various meets which are to be planned for the coming winter.

The first card will be put out at a matinee next Sunday with racing and trotting races for the horse owners, a dash for the motorcycles and a distance race for autos, the latter race to be driven by the owners of machines only.

TO OPEN CLUB ON THANKSGIVING DAY

VISALIA, Oct. 17.—Members of the Visalia club are looking forward with interest to the completion of their new club building on Main street, opposite the city library. The brick work is completed and the interior finishing is in progress. The lower floor will be devoted to gymnasium and natatorium and the upper story to finely fitted billiard rooms. The natatorium will be so equipped that bathing may be had winter and summer, the water being heated by piping and the room being steam heated. The club plans to occupy the quarters Thanksgiving day, the event and the day being celebrated with a sumptuous repast to be participated in by the club members and probably their women folk.

AUTOIST GETS JOLT ON SUNKEN BRIDGE

DINUBA, Oct. 17.—While driving along the country road north of here a few days ago, C. W. Blackley of Reedley had the misfortune to strike a bad bridge and nearly lost his neck. The bridge had washed out at one end and had sunk nearly three feet. Blackley had passed over the bridge the day before and it was all right, so thought nothing of the matter until his auto went down. The machine escaped without injury but the sudden drop in the road gave the gentleman such a jolt that he has been suffering with a severely sprained neck ever since. Luckily for him the car was going at only about fifteen miles an hour at the time of the accident.

URGES FOOTHILL ROUTE FOR STATE HIGHWAY

Ben M. Maddox Says While Longer, It Would Cost Less to Build.

DUCOR, Oct. 17.—Members of the Ladies Improvement Club gave their annual banquet at the Ducor hotel last night. A number of addresses were delivered by prominent boosters from various parts of the country.

Ben M. Maddox of Visalia was the principal speaker and he gave some interesting facts and figures with regard to the claims of the West Slope versus the Orange Grove district for the proposed state road, for which the location is to be selected shortly.

SELMA WILL HAVE FIRST-CLASS HOTEL

Building Cannot Keep Pace With Demand for Store Room in Dry Town.

SELMA, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Mary F. Berry and Ed Berry have taken a lease on the Van Horn hotel building, which has recently been completed, and are now fitting it up. Selma's growth has been so rapid during the last few months that the present hotel facilities have frequently proved inadequate, and visitors in town have been obliged to go to Fresno to secure lodgings. The new hotel will therefore fill quite a need.

In addition to the renting of the hotel premises of the Van Horn, all of the store rooms have been rented. M. T. Cunha, recently from Gustine, is to open a general merchandise store in the rooms at the corner of First and Second streets and is now preparing to establish his stocks there as soon as they can be assembled. The renting of these rooms leaves Selma without a vacant store room. This is a condition which has prevailed in Selma for about four years, although there has hardly been a time during that period when store rooms were not being built in the town.

PRATT ESTATE IS VALUED AT $16,000

VISALIA, Oct. 17.—Anna H. Pratt of Pasadena has filed a petition for letters in the estate of her late husband, J. B. Pratt, deceased. The estate consists of real property west of Visalia valued at $16,000.

Judge Allen, presiding in department No. 2, this morning granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to Mrs. Sara J. Boyd from William P. Boyd. The custody of their minor son and daughter is given to the mother.

C. J. Giddings, vice president and manager of the National Bank of Visalia, this morning paid a fine of $5 for riding upon a sidewalk in the vicinity of the bank in violation of a city ordinance. Police Judge Bagby assessed the fine.

TENNIS ASSOCIATION BUILDS FINE COURT

VISALIA, Oct. 17.—The Visalia Tennis association is competing its fine tennis court on Northeast Second avenue, between Visalia and the Central California High School. Athletic leagues from February to May. As a result the baseball schedule will be played before the field day. This plan was tried several years ago with success. Baseball will be taken up immediately following the Christmas holidays.

COUNTY MISSIONARY ON COLONIST TRAINS

Plan Suggested to Tulare Board of Trade By Santa Fe Man.

VISALIA, Oct. 17.—J. B. Parrott, Santa Fe agent, will take up with the board of trade a plan to place a representative of Tulare county aboard each of the colonist trains bound west to inform passengers and prospective California settlers of the advantages of Tulare county and distribute literature among them. The plan may be taken up at the next meeting of the trade board.

The board of trade has taken up the matter of securing notices to accompany the state highway commission on its tour of inspection of the proposed routes of the state highway in Tulare county. The commission will be met at Visalia and escorted over the county along the route of the proposed orange boulevard line and also paralleling the Southern Pacific. A committee consisting of J. B. Johnson, C. A. Turner and Supervisor A. C. Williams has been named to select the notices. It is planned to have upward of 500 in line from all parts of the county.

A writeup in the Omaha Bee of the big band show now in progress in that city pays a distinct compliment to the exhibit of Tulare county in charge of A. E. Mott, secretary of the county board of trade. The article calls attention to a 225-pound pumpkin, said to be the largest ever seen in Nebraska, and to the fine collection of fruits and vegetables in general. Tulare county's booth is described as built in Mission style with bodega roof, autumn leaf covered, and the columns smothered in California poppies. The exhibit of preserved fruits and flowers, together with fresh fruits and vegetables, is said to be making a big hit with the public visiting the fair.

SANGER SIFTINGS

SANGER, Oct. 17.—The Sanger Union baseball team plays the Clovis High school team at Recreation Park next Saturday at 2:30 o'clock. Last Saturday Clovis High played Sanger High here. In ten innings the score stood 10 to 10, consequently the next game is to play off the tie.

Miss Florence Morgan has just returned from Berkeley, where she has been at the bedside of her father, who has just passed through a serious operation.

Rev. Carl D. Sims, who is holding evangelical services in the Baptist church, gave a lecture this afternoon on "The Home Life and Customs of Chinese Women and Girls." The high school was especially invited and many of the pupils turned out to hear the lecture. The meeting was conducted by Rev. Sims are gaining in interest and are largely attended.

Messrs. P. J. Placer, W. D. Mitchell and George Van Fleet have gone to San Francisco and will remain there until the end of the week.

R. U. Patterson, an oldtime resident of Sanger, lately from San Francisco, is visiting in Sanger.

Mrs. George Parkinson is in Sanger. She comes to Sanger from the mountains, where Mr. Parkinson is a government employee in the forests.

PORTERVILLE NOTES

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 17.—By reason of a delay in the securing of the furniture for the Chamber of Commerce Club room, it has been necessary to indefinitely postpone the formal opening, which was set for the evening of the 18th.

Permits for the paving of Mill street from Main west to the Southern Pacific reservation were granted by the city council last night. At the council meeting the superintendent of the city engineering department was granted a favorable opinion upon the portion of Main street paving which the Workwick Street Paving company has finished and a warrant was drawn in payment.

Members of the board of education have asked the city to assist in paving for a second bridge over Porter Creek, which runs through the center of the west side residence district. With the opening of the new West Olive street grammar school it will be necessary for children living in El Bonita and Westfield to go nearly half a mile out of their way during the winter months when there is water in the creek, to cross by the Main street bridge. It is planned to build a footbridge only for the present.

$7000 DEPOSITED IN POSTAL BANK

Money Being Placed in New-Bakersfield Depository at Rate of $500 Per Day.

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 16.—At the end of three weeks, the Bakersfield postal savings bank has deposits of $7,000. The money is being deposited at the rate of about $500 a day and Postmaster Edmonds says the average depositor has been about $50. At present the bank has about 125 depositors on its books. The money is not withdrawn very frequently.

SUFFRAGE WINS IN KINGS COUNTY, 177

HANFORD, Oct. 17.—The canvass of the constitutional amendment section returns shows that woman's suffrage carried in Kings county by 177 majority. There were 1297 votes cast out of a registration of 3,800. At present James Garfield Jefford and Gracie Helen Grider, both of Porterville, were licensed to vote in this city today. Their ages are 30 and 19 years, respectively.

HABEAS CORPUS FAILS

HANFORD, Oct. 17.—Habeas corpus proceedings failed in the case of Russell Wilton charged with burglarizing the barn of the Lake View Oil Co. south of Hanford last month. His attorney had failed to state that his applicant had not been held for habeas corpus in any other court and when the case came up at 10 o'clock today for hearing, the application was denied by Superior Judge J. C. Covert. A motion to disqualify the information followed and being argued was taken under advisement until tomorrow when if denied he will plead to the charge.

NO GASCARET USER EVER HAS HEADACHE

A 10-Cent Box Will Keep Your Liver, Stomach and Bowels Clean, Pure and Fresh for Months.

Stick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver, delayed fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system, is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue, it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing sickening headache. Salts, cathartic pills, oil and purgative waters force a passage for a day or two—then they stop and the poisons out and have no effect upon the liver or stomach. Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, indigestible and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from your digestive means inside along with the undigested waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels. A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—16-cent box from your druggist means inside cleanliness and a clear head for months. Ask any of the millions of Cascaret users if they ever have headache.

SOCIETY

Rumors are far more interesting than fact, a certain fascination always surrounding an announcement of vague certainty. The latest one that is causing gossip over the afternoon tea cups is that the Fresno branch of the city are planning to form a dancing club for this winter. All hail to the scheme! The jolly affair given by the members of the Scholastic Club of previous seasons, have in a way been replaced by the smart dancing parties given by the Assembly Club, but part of the interest of the affair was in discovering just what delightful hosts the members could be. The British Ball has been a thing of the past for some time, and often are regretted. The number of important and interesting cases were presented, and plans made in their behalf. The final announcement of the exact amount needed in the efforts of the members for "Punch Day" was made, the full amount cleared being the splendid sum of $1675.30, which is quite much for the business men of Fresno, who did most of the buying.

An important meeting of the Fresno Jolly Society was held yesterday afternoon in the parlors of the Unitarian church, Miss Eugenia Miller, the president, calling the session to order. A number of important and interesting cases were presented, and plans made in their behalf. The final announcement of the exact amount needed in the efforts of the members for "Punch Day" was made, the full amount cleared being the splendid sum of $1675.30, which is quite much for the business men of Fresno, who did most of the buying.

A limit has been put upon the number of active members, sixty-five having been decided upon for a capitation working force. It was decided to abolish the initiation fee, and the monthly dues remain as before. The associate membership is to be established at once, and every man or woman in Fresno, who so desires, may pay yearly dues of whatever denomination they choose, but no less than $1. From the inquiries made from outsiders regarding an association of this sort, it is a prophecy that the membership will soon number in the hundreds.

The next regular meeting will be held in two weeks.

Mrs. T. W. Patterson is spending a few days in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Helm, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Walton and Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery Thomas will form a jolly little party this evening when Mrs. Lillian Nordica sings at the Barton.

Mrs. George L. Hoxie, who spent several days last week with friends in Fresno, is back in Berkeley, where she has assumed the duties of chaperone for the members of the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority. The sorority has

This Kidney Remedy
Gives Immediate Relief

In 1897 and 1898, I was taken very sick with kidney trouble, and being unable to get any relief, I went to a prominent physician at Libertyville, Iowa. After doctoring for some time without cure or benefit, I began the use of Swamp-Root and found immediate relief, which urged me to continue the use of the medicine.

After taking several bottles, which I bought at Zercher's drug store in Fairfield, I became a well man, and can honestly say that I have never had any signs of Bright's Disease, or a return of any kind.

I am so grateful toward Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root that I never hesitate to recommend it to any one I know who is suffering from kidney trouble.

Yours very truly,

Mrs. Truman G. Hart and Miss Cora Trowbridge have issued invitations for a buffet luncheon on next Saturday at the home of the former on Blackstone avenue. Mrs. John Stark of Omaha, Nebraska, who is visiting Miss Trowbridge, will be the complimentary guest on this occasion. About thirty invitations have been issued.

Concerning the appearance of Miss Nordica this evening at the Barton, a number of Fresnoans have decided to establish a very sensible precedent, in forming quite a large party that will occupy seats in the gallery. In Los Angeles and other cities, it has long been the custom for music teachers to chaperone their classes to hear famous singers, and where there were several pupils from one family, it was not unusual to go to the performance, though it was not deemed wise to let an educational treat of this sort slip because of any false pride on the subject. If there were any protest from the parents who disapproved of their children mingling with a rough element, they were always reminded that the attraction would probably not prove a drawing card to the rough element.

An interesting item from New York tells of the return to stage life of Miss Lillian Albertson, formerly of Fresno. Miss Albertson in private life is Mrs. Abraham Levy, her marriage having occurred on August 23, 1906, when she was the leading woman in "Paid in Full," then playing at Weber's theater. Miss Albertson's debut before the lights was made on August 11, 1901, in San Francisco, and since then she has several times appeared in Fresno. Her return is made after an absence of about two years.

An interesting meeting of the Music Section of the Parlor Lecture Club was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. L. Platt, and under the efficient efforts of Mrs. S. L. Platt, the chairman, and Mrs. W. T. Knowles, the vice chairman of the department, an unusually large membership is listed in this department of study. The first real meeting will be held on the first Wednesday in November, when the day will be devoted to an informal party. The city of study topics has been arranged for the winter.

On Thursday evening, the Senior Class of the Normal school will complement the Junior Class of the same school, in an informal party, to be given in the auditorium of the Annex. Rugs and easy chairs will give the spacious room the appearance of a drawing room, and greenery will be supplemented by school pennants for decoration. The same materials will also ornament the corridors. The entertainment is to be perfectly impromptu, and the evening promises to be very delightful.

Mrs. Florence Reed will be the hostess this afternoon at the first meeting of the Wednesday Afternoon Card Club.

Mrs. Arthur Perkins left last night on the south bound "Owl," accompanied by little Thomas and Dorothy Ellen Perkins, on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Perkins in San Bernardino. They will visit friends in Los Angeles later, where they will be joined by Mr. Perkins before returning home.

The Wednesday Club will meet this afternoon with Miss Deesley Brooks at her home on Fortcamp avenue, to devote the afternoon to the study of Richard the Third, under Mrs. W. V. Miller's tutelage.

The Leisure Hour Club will convene for its regular meeting this afternoon, with Mrs. E. J. Burgess, 320 Glenn avenue, when Mrs. S. L. Wiley will lead in the study of Sociology.

Mrs. W. P. Miller was the guest of honor at a luncheon given by Mrs. Arthur Snyder in Selma on Tuesday. The center piece was a most artistic arrangement of Belle Selbrecht roses and the place cards were dainty water colors of the same lovely flower.

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound, taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken, will cure Grippe or break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs.

You distinctly feel the cold breaking and all the disagreeable gripe symptoms leaving after the very first dose. It promptly ends the most miserable headache, stiffness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or Grippe.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

DR. LEONHARDT'S DISCOVERY.

HEM-ROID Will Interest Every Person Who Has Piles.

The public is indebted to Dr. J. S. Leonhardt of Lincoln, Neb., for years of study of the treatment of piles, and for his discovery of a successful remedy, taken inwardly, which lives up to the stagnant blood circulation and reduces the swollen vessels. Dr. Leonhardt's prescription is HEM-ROID, sold by the San Joaquin Drug Company and druggists at $1 for twenty-five days' treatment. Guaranteed to give satisfaction. Dr. Leonhardt, Co., Station B, Buffalo, N. Y. Write for booklet.

The guests were Mrs. Miller, Mrs. T. H. Matthews, Mrs. W. E. Street, Mrs. Horvath, Kriener and Mrs. Mary Saville.

The Jolly Twelve met yesterday at the home of Mrs. H. A. Maxson and enjoyed their usual rounds of 500. The highest score going to Mrs. E. F. Sherman, the second to Miss Helen Sherman. The club will meet next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Marjorie Hayes, 419 Nichols. The substitutes playing were Mrs. Lambert Sewell and Mrs. E. H. Heller, Mrs. Allen.

Sunday at the home of Mrs. B. T. Youngblood on Church Ave., a birthday dinner was given in honor of the sixth birthday of Mrs. Gladys, daughter of Mrs. Youngblood, and Mr. Clinton A. Harlan. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gash, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Harlan, Mr. and Mrs. Marlon Gash, Wm. Gash, Vivienne Gash, Eva and Pearl Gash, Mrs. B. T. Youngblood, Fred Gash, John Gash, Fred Holliday.

TWO MORE WOMEN ON REGISTER OF VOTERS

Must Sign Full Given Name;
No Title of "Mrs." or
"Miss" Permitted.

Two more women registered yesterday as voters, making four to date and politically classified as follows:

Republicans 1
Democrat 1
Socialist 1

Mrs. Powell was the third applicant. She came with a company companion, and stated that she knew very well that the registration would avail her nothing at this time but she insisted on being entered as a voter and raised her voice audibly when she announced her political affiliations. Her husband is H. O. Powell, a painter by vocation.

She further announced that she invariably signed her name "Mrs. B. O. Powell," but Chief Election Officer B. O. Powell informed her that this could not be her name and her signature must correspond with the name as entered in the affidavit, or else there would be no means of identification of the individual.

The rule that has been established in the clerk's office is that every woman must register under her full given name, and sign such, and that no prefix titles of "Mrs." or "Miss" will be recognized. Mrs. Powell had already filled out the affidavit blank before informed of the rule regarding the signature.

The fourth woman to register was Mrs. Norris, who said she really did not know that she did not have to register now but said she would do so because her husband, Charles H. Norris, a rancher near Fowler, is registered.

He accompanied her to the clerk's office.

Several hours after the registration telephone request came to the clerk's office from the husband that the registration of the wife be withheld from publication in the newspapers.

BATTERY CASE WILL BE DECIDED FRIDAY

Railroad Policeman Beck Tried on Charge of Striking Fireman.

Arguments in the case of William Beck, a member of the state railroad police, charged with battery, will be held Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock before City Justice Graham. The case was tried yesterday morning and the testimony of the witnesses had been given by noon. The time for arguing the case was then set for 4 o'clock, but as the district attorney was otherwise occupied, the case was continued until Friday morning.

Beck is charged with having struck C. J. Lindrose, a city fireman, when the latter refused to leave the Southern Pacific yards. Lindrose was accompanied by A. L. Stevens, E. Dawson and D. A. Washburn at the time of the trouble. They were witnesses at the trial yesterday. C. R. Oswald and Hardy Ward testified in behalf of the defendant.

The testimony was the same as that published at the time of the arrest of the railroad officer. The four firemen attempted to walk through the yards to the depot, but were stopped by the guards and the fight broke out. The firemen alleged that the first blows were delivered by the railroad men, and that they intended to peacefully leave the yards. The railroad officers claim that it was necessary to use force in order to effect the men from the premises.

Attorney L. L. Cory appeared for the defense and Assistant District Attorney McCormick appeared for the prosecution.

EXTRADITION OF MYERS IS DELAYED

Sheriff Walter McSwain received a telegram from Deputy Sheriff Bottorff at Kansas City yesterday, stating that the extradition of J. E. Myers, wanted here for embezzlement, had again been delayed on technical grounds. Attorney Everett of this city, who is in Kansas City in the interest of the Kernan people who claim that they were swindled by Myers, has wired District Attorney Church, requesting that certain affidavits in regard to the case to be sent to Kansas City. The hearing will not be held until these affidavits are received. Myers was former cashier of the Kernan bank and he is alleged to have embezzled about $30,000 although the complaint only charges him with securing $3,000 by fraudulent measures. He has been a fugitive from justice for two years and was arrested in Kansas City when he filed petition in bankruptcy.

MERRY GO-ROUNDS TO BE EXCLUDED

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 17.—City Attorney George D. Murry is at work on a new city license law under direction of the council, which will result in shutting out of the city limits the festive merry-go-round. There were complaints and more complaints when a popular was issued for the operation of one of these alleged amusements here last week the determination of the councilmen to shut them out of the business district having resulted only in driving them into the residential portion of this city. At the same time these changes are being made in the law, step will be taken to shut out the traveling doctor and salesmen of patent medicines.

ARREST CIGAR MERCHANT FOR VIOLATING CITY ORDINANCE

A. Madsen Cited to Appear in Police Court at 10 O'clock.

Arrest of Merchant Was Prearranged; Test Case
Will Be Made.

The light of the cigar merchants of this city to test the legality of the city ordinance prohibiting the shaking of dice for merchandise was inaugurated in Fresno yesterday afternoon when Acting Chief of Police Coffey and Patrolman William Pickett arrested A. Madsen, proprietor of a cigar store and employment office at 1241 I street, and effected him to appear in the police court this morning at 10 o'clock. Madsen was charged with violating a city ordinance.

The arrest of the merchant was prearranged, and another cigar merchant stood at the counter and shook dice for cigars, as the acting police chief and the patrolman passed. The officers' attention was directed to the dice game and the arrest was made. There was no disturbance of any kind and the first arrest under the ordinance was made in a quiet manner. It was not thought that any more arrests will be made for the violation of this ordinance until the law is tested in the courts.

Madsen stated last night that he was the party chosen to be arrested, and that he was merely acting under the instructions of the cigar men. He said that he would plead not guilty to the charge when arraigned in court.

Early yesterday it was announced that the first step toward bringing the ordinance into court would not be made until the return of Chief of Police James E. Coffey. It is understood that the chief of police made the arrest.

An ordinance similar to the Fresno ordinance was recently enforced by the Chicago police, but after a few days Chief of Police McWenny gave instructions to his patrolmen to give dice-shaking in the cigar stores and saloons, but that the men must not play for money. Chief McWenny gave as his reason for allowing dice games in the shaking dice for cigars is not gambling.

HUNTED FOR QUAIL WITH BROOMSTICK

Declaring that he is demented and that the predisposing cause of his mental ailment is alcoholism as a family trait, Dr. Barry and Cooley recommended yesterday that K. Nycey, a drunk, be committed to the asylum at Stockton. The poor fellow built a camp fire in the street gutter at Mariposa and O and slept alongside of it, although at the time he had a bed paid for in a lodging house. Next morning he started out to hunt quail in the streets with a broomstick. The insane man is a native of Austria, aged 25 years, and has been in California two years from the old country.

IS ARRESTED FOR CUTTING CONDUCTOR

HANFORD, Oct. 17.—After an all-day search, Marshals Frederick and Dickinson of Hanford and Deputy Sheriff Clarence Berry, arrested Harry Smith on suspicion of being the man who stabbed Conductor Ed. Holcomb Sunday night at Rosi, four miles west of Lemoore. Holcomb described his assailant as a Mexican, but as Smith is swarthy the conductor might easily have been mistaken.

Smith says that he was put off of that train at Rosi Sunday night, but denies that he cut the conductor. He is now at the county jail and Holcomb has been notified to come down and see if it is the man who cut him.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR FOR REEDLEY Y. M.

REEDLEY, Oct. 17.—Hugh McLaughlin of Sanger has been engaged as athletic director for the Reedley Y. M. C. A. for this season. He will spend three or four weeks at Reedley giving his time to the afternoon at the "High School" where he will direct the athletic work of the boys and serve as coach.

The High school has arranged for a traveling Art Exhibit to be shown in the school building from November 5 to 11. The products will be used to purchase pictures for school decoration.

LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP

The J. G. James Co., respectfully asks the attention of the public to its Tranquillity Colony, located five miles from Jameson, Fresno Co., on the Fresno and Fish Sloughs. This Colony is backed by the best of soil, and water rights from the Kings and San Joaquin Rivers, and has one of the most perfect canal systems in the state.

The Hanford Summit Lake Railroad is nearing completion and makes the prosperous town of Tranquillity one of its principal railroad centers.

The land is all checked for wheat farming, and is particularly every forty acre tract has a canal running through it. Many homes are being built and the crops of alfalfa, Egyptian corn, barley, grapes, peaches, etc., have all been successful. The J. G. James Company is continuing its extensive canal and levy work and everything is booming.

Why not come here and have a look before buying elsewhere? IT PAYS TO LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP.

Don't listen to what other people have to say—Come and see for yourself. We feel confident that you will like our country and we know that we can fit your wants as to price and terms.

CHAIR THIEF MUST SERVE SIXTY DAYS

Police Judge Briggs Sends Every Prisoner to County Jail for Short Terms.

Sixty days in the county jail is the sentence that James Cunningham must serve for stealing two rocking chairs. He appeared before Police Judge Briggs yesterday morning at the regular police court session and with the manner of an attorney entered his plea of guilty and informed the magistrate that he did not care to take up his valuable time with a detailed account of how he happened to steal two rocking chairs. The court did not consider Cunningham's time valuable so he was sent to jail for two months.

C. Freudenberg, who was found under some bushes in front of a residence on E street Monday night, pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace and was sentenced to ten days in jail. It was thought at first that Freudenberg had made an attempt to burglarize the house but the detective yesterday investigated the case and found that Freudenberg had lost his hat and was in the yard looking for it.

James Clark was sentenced to five days in jail for drunkenness and Thomas Miyafes received a similar sentence for a like offense. John Trous paid a fine of $5 for being intoxicated.

STUDENT OFFICIALS HAVE OFFICE ROOMS

This year, quite extensive arrangements have been made for housing the student officers at high school. When the old building was remodeled during the summer, a former class room was made into a students' committee room and fitted up with a long table and chairs. With the present conveniences a much more orderly system of conducting meetings of the student organization must be maintained. A janitor must be maintained. A small office room opens off the larger one, in which the president and treasurer of the student body and the editor and business manager of the "Owl" have desk room.

READY TO BEGIN CRIMINAL TRIALS

The first of eighteen criminal cases on the calendar of Judge Austin's court was to have been called for trial today, but the defendant, a Japanese, accused of forgery, pleaded guilty yesterday. The other cases set for this month at this time are those of Adolph Pierini, on the 26th, of George A. Francis on the 27th, and of William Coleman on the 28th, all accused of assaults with deadly weapons. A case is set for trial for almost every day during the opening fortnight in November. The two notable cases during that period are those of Charles E. Campbell, of the Stewart Fruit Company, for the killing of a Chinaman whom he ran over with his automobile, and of Vincent Bell, constable and deputy sheriff at Mendota, accused of manslaughter. In this case there were no witnesses to the homicide.

Have You Heard of

Our October Offer?

Printing and Binding At Cost

WE have made this offer to induce you to let us demonstrate to you the superiority of our work. It is a real opportunity for you to save on your printing and binding. It is not a case of taking a risk of getting inferior work; the kind of work we do is well known for its high grade. For many years "Republican Quality" has been synonymous with the best. It stands for tasteful, harmonious work and guaranteed satisfaction. For many years we have been increasing our trade principally by maintaining an unusually high standard.

In order to secure the business that we feel should be ours because of the undoubted superiority of our work, we are making this liberal offer. We want to secure orders from those who have never given us an opportunity to show them the kind of printing and binding we do. Many persons have taken advantage of this offer to have enough work done to last for a year. We want others to do the same thing. It means a material saving, a cutting down of office expense.

Now Is The Time To Order

Now is the time to order. You will probably want special printing done for the holidays. Now is the best time to order. You will not only make this saving, but you will be certain of having the work when you want it. Inventory your office stationery and see if there is not something that is getting low, ledger leaves, or letter heads, etc. We want to impress on you that our work is as good as you can get anywhere. Our equipment is as complete as can be found in California and there is no work too difficult for us to execute in the most satisfactory manner.

Athletics Beat Giants in 11th Inning, 3 to 2

CONNIE MACK'S WHITE ELEPHANTS POUND CURVES OF GREAT PITCHER

Giants Lead Until Ninth When Baker Ties Count
With Home Run; Mathewson Weakens in 11th;
Jack Coombs Holds Nationals to 3 Hits.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—By a score of 3 to 2 in eleven innings of baseball as sensational as a world's series has ever furnished, the Philadelphia Athletics defeated the New York Giants here today and jumped into a lead of two games to one in the series for the world's championship. The White Elephants achieved this feat on their rivals' own ground, facing the great Mathewson, who had puzzled them into the loss of one world's series and who had started bravely in an attempt to make history repeat itself.

Three times in 1905 and once this year, the Athletics had fallen victims to Mathewson's wizardry. Today they finally broke through his guard and fell upon him so heavily in the latter part of the tense struggle that the great boxman and his mates were swept off their feet.

Backed up by the great work of Jack Coombs, the Kneebunk "Iron Man,"

Mathewson's luck. Manager McGraw placed his hope today on Mathewson, and until the fatal ninth strike held the Philadelphia's runless, leaving them down with

SUMMARY

Two base hits, Barry, Herzog. Home run, Baker. Sacrifice hits, Barry, Snodgrass, Fletcher. Left on bases, Philadelphia 5; New York 2. Struck out, by Coombs 7; by Mathewson 3. Time 2:17. Umpire, At Phila: Brennan; on bases, Connolly, Left Field Klein, right field, Dineen.

Davis singled, the ball hitting Umpire Connolly. Murphy took second on the single. Barry sacrificed. Mathewson to Merkle. Davis went to third. On Lapp's infield tap, Murphy was out at the plate on an assist by Snodgrass and Meyers and a putout by Herzog, who chased the runner clear to the plate. Coombs popped out to Fletcher. No runs.

Merkle filed to Lord. Herzog walked on four balls. This was the first base on balls during the game. The crowd was now in a frenzy of excitement and tried its best to rattle Coombs. Herzog was out stealing. Lapp to Collins. Herzog overstepped the bag. Fletcher out, Barry to Davis. No runs.

SIXTH INNING.
Lord out on a line drive to Murray. Mathewson used all his speed and the Athletics had difficulty in solving his delivery in the dark day. Oldring struck out. It was Mathewson's first strike out. Collins drove a high fly to Snodgrass and was out. No runs.

The weather cleared quite a bit during the early part of the inning and there was only the faintest part of a moonlight in the air.
Meyers fouled out to Lapp. Mathewson sent up a high one, which Collins smothered. Devore out, Baker to Davis. No runs.

SEVENTH INNING.
The Philadelphia enthusiasts stood up at the beginning of the inning and cheered Baker when he came to the plate. Baker went out on a high fly to Murray. Murphy went out on a high fly to Doye. Davis fanned. No runs.

Doye out, Collins to Davis. Snodgrass fanned. Murray walked. Murray was safe at second when Collins dropped Lapp's throw. Merkle out, Collins to Davis. No runs.

EIGHTH INNING.
Barry doubled to left. Lapp scratched an infield hit. Barry taking third. Barry out at the plate on Coombs' tag. Doye, who threw to Meyers. Lapp was out at home when he tried to come in after Fletcher had dropped a throw from Doye, who felled Lord. Fletcher in catch. Coombs at second. Oldring fanned. No runs.

Herzog filed to Lord. Fletcher out. Sacrificed to Mathewson. Mathewson threw Lapp's easy tap home, heading off Murphy, who was run down. Coombs filed to Fletcher.

Merkle filed to Lord. Coombs walked. Herzog, who was caught trying to steal second. Fletcher went down. Barry to Davis.

In the Athletics' sixth Lord's line drive went into Murray's hands. Oldring fanned and Collins filed to Snodgrass.

Meyers, for New York, was out on a high fly to Lapp, and Collins got Mathewson's fly. Barry and Davis took care of Devore's tap.

Barry's fly went to Doye and Davis fanned.

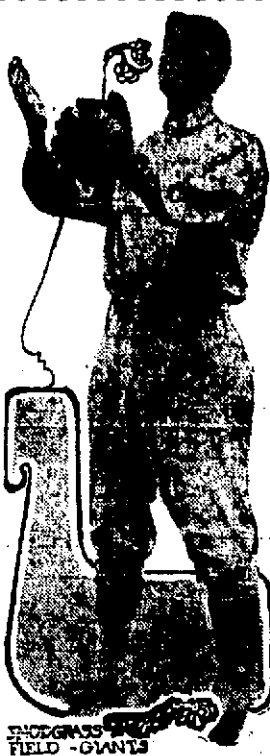

For New York, Doye went out, Collins to Davis. Snodgrass struck out, and although Murray was passed and was safe at second when Collins dropped Lapp's throw, Merkle went out on a hit to second.

TWO CAUGHT AT PLATE.
Barry hit to left for a double in the eighth and took third when Lapp beat out a hit to Fletcher. Doye got Coombs' run and threw to Meyers, who tagged Barry. Lord hit to Doye, who threw to Fletcher for a double. Fletcher dropped the ball, both runners being safe, but Doye shot it to Meyers and Lapp went down between third and home.

Barry was out on a fly to Lord. Herzog stepped Fletcher's cannon shot drive and recovered for a true and swift throw to Davis. Meyers struck out.

BAKER POLES HOMER.
In the ninth, Collins had been thrown out by Herzog when Baker hit for a homer, tying the score. Murphy then ran as far as third on Herzog's fumble and with three and Davis out, Meyers to Merkle, but Barry went out, Herzog to Merkle.

Mathewson struck out. Devore filed to Baker, and Doye fanned.

On ladies' night, the six alleys will be reserved for members of the fair sex and their escorts. Several bowling leagues will be formed this winter. An inter-league, while "ducks" should be as popular as ever. The local Pin League will enter upon its second season, also being in the field to date. One is from the telephone company and the other from the Brunswick cigar store. The Mullens will probably form the third team, and Bill Rudy's Busters the fourth. The winning team will get the Garman trophy, a silver cup which arrived too late for the 1910 bowling season.

Seven Cars Reach Fresno in Endurance Race

NO AUTOS HAVE PERFECT SCORE IN "RELIABILITY TOUR" OF 900 MILES

Contesting Cars Reach Fresno After Covering 749 Miles of Rough Roads; Final Leg of Journey to Be Made Today; Many Unique Features.

Covered with dust and bearing evidence of having reeled off many miles over rough country roads, seven automobiles, entered in the San Francisco to Los Angeles and return endurance run, pulled into Fresno yesterday afternoon. Last night these seven cars were "stabled" at the Elmore garage on a street where the night's control was scheduled.

A week ago this morning the seven cars started from San Francisco bound for Los Angeles via Coast route. Last night when the drivers and mechanics checked in at the Elmore garage for the night's control, none of the cars had a perfect score for the day's run from Bakersfield to Fresno, via Tulare, where lunch was taken, the entrants had a faultless score but as for the entire trip it is doubtful which car has the nearest to a perfect score.

The big American No. 1 with Stanley Gagne at the wheel, was the first to arrive here yesterday afternoon. It checked in at 3:12 o'clock. The Flinders roadster, driven by Stanley Jones, rolled in a half minute later. Right at the rear wheels of the little Flinders was the Warren-Detroit, piloted by Columbus Hobson, of "our town." Hobson was given a reception by the large crowd. Next came the S. G. V. with Matthews at the wheel. The Carter car, Collins driving, blew in at 3:40, the big American No. 2 at 4 o'clock and the Flinders touring car at 4:10. Gillet drove the big Flinders and W. the tiny car at the wheel of the American No. 2.

Each car carried a driver and observer and several had an extra passenger and baggage to make up for a fourth person. Last night when the last car had checked in for the fifth night's control, it was announced that the drivers and observers had traveled exactly 749 miles. This endurance run is known in the automobile world as the Reliability Tour and is being conducted under the management of the Automobile Association of America.

With the sanction of the American Automobile Association, the run is official under the auspices of the local roads club of Northern California.

All of the seven cars are stock machines, and of grade two cars. The entrants are permitted to work on the cars on their own time but not after the checking in work has been done for the night's control. The trouble is eliminated and the drivers are allowed to adjust the carburetors, brakes or spark plugs. Defects to mar the running gears count as penalties against the cars.

This morning at 7:30 o'clock, the cars will leave here bound for San Francisco on the last leg of the return trip. After arrival the cars will be turned over to the technical committee which will put the usual tests in effect. One of these and the most of the night's control is to place a car against an 8-inch curb. The engine is started and the clutch is thrown into the low gear the car must either jump the curb, spin rear wheels or stall the motor. There is also the clutch test.

According to officials of the A. A. A. this is the longest and biggest tour ever held west of the Rocky mountains. The longest tour previous to this one was from San Francisco to Paso Robles. One of the features of the tour here was a reception last night for the drivers and observers at the home of Columbus Hobson on Calaveras avenue.

The worst road seen encountered near Paso Robles, on the first day out, the Carter car broke a rear axle and the Warren broke a spring. The Flinders' runabout stopped for water near Santa Maria. On the same day the Flinders' magnets went wrong and the car had to be towed to the next town.

Two weeks before the run, the Carter car passed through a fire in San Francisco. Coming across the desert from Los Angeles to Bakersfield Monday the fan failed to work and Mechanic Collins filled and refilled the water tank from buckets of water obtained along the route. At Bakersfield the fan was refilled. The propeller failed to work as a result of the fire.

En route to Fresno yesterday the cars were stalled fifteen minutes at Cochen to await the passing of a long freight train. In connection with the endurance run, the Automobile Association of America has had never heard of a car as reliable as this one. He said a remarkable thing about it was the way the little cars were staying with the big ones over rough roads.

First Five Arrivals in Endurance Run

Carter Car—S. G. V.—Warren—Flinders—American.

RUNNING RACES PLANNED FOR 17 DAYS ACROSS BORDER LINE

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 17.—Winter stakes for the hundred days of racing to be held at Jurez, Mexico, beginning "Thanksgiving" day, were announced by M. J. Wynn, manager of the Jockey Club of Juarez, last night just before he left for Mexico City where, beginning Oct. 22 he will conduct a 7-day race meeting. Six or more races will be run every day at Jurez, he said, with no purse less than $300 added money. The stakes events are all a guaranteed value for all ages and are as follows:

Arco Nuevo handicap at one mile and a furlong, $1500. Chihuahua handicap at one mile and a furlong, $1000. Navidad handicap at one mile, $1200. Dos Republicas handicap at six furlongs, $1000.

Motetunna stakes one mile and a sixteenth (stakes), $1000.

El Paso stakes at one mile selling, $1000.

Rio Grande stakes at six furlongs selling, $1000.

La Victoria handicap at six furlongs for two years old at the time of closing $1000.

One new world's record and another one tied made an artistic success out of "Comiskey field day" held at Comiskey Park under the auspices of the Chicago Howling Tournament. Comiskey, manager of the White Sox, in the Chicago Tribune.

The new world's record was hung up by Big Ed Walsh of the White Sox in the fungo hitting contest. The prize of the south side swatted a fly that covered 419 feet and half an inch on his second of three tries and that not only won him the $100 first prize but beat the old record of 413 ft. 3 1/2 in. made by Mike Mitchell of the Cincinnati Reds in 1907. Walsh completed the Cincinnati field day at which Mike Mitchell was the star, but was not in good form at the time. Big Ed never in good form at the time. In this event he was satisfied with his work in that contest and it was chiefly at his request that Comiskey brought him back from Boston to compete last night. Walsh justified his own and his employer's confidence by distancing all competitors. He had only Jack Coombs of the Athletics and Harry McIntire of the Cubs as rivals, but made no signs to better the record.

TWO STOPS FOR ST. LOUIS

Jimmy Austin of the St. Louis Browns tied the world's record in the hit and run to first base, doing the trick in 0:02 1/5 and winning from a field that included some of the fastest men in both major leagues. Austin had won the first in the circling of the bases contest, in which he beat practically the same field of starters.

The other winners were Bob Messenger of the White Sox in the 100-yard dash, Fred Toney of the Cubs in the long-distance throw, and Harry Hooper of the Red Sox in the accuracy-throwing contest. In this event the officials made the mistake of accepting entries from all kinds of players when the event was intended for pitchers only. Jimmy Archer would have won the event easily if properly conducted. As it was the Cubs' best stop tied with Coombs and Hooper in the first round and was beaten by Hooper when the tie was thrown off in the midst of a soaking rain that made the ball heavy and slippery. This was the final event put on, and the crowd of 3000 or so was dismissed at its termination.

Everybody took a hand in the accuracy-throwing contest, which resulted in a tie with Coombs, Archer and Hooper. The Cubs stepped the program for a few minutes on the throw-off. With a fungo ball Hooper of the Red Sox finally won the throw-off. Summaries:

100 yards dash—Won by Messenger, White Sox; Hooper, Boston Red Sox, second; Austin, St. Louis Americans, third; time 0:11.

MME. NORDICA, GREATLY ADMIRER DIVA, WILL BE HEARD IN CONCERT TONIGHT AT THE BARTON

MADAME LILLIAN NORDICA, WHO APPEARS AT THE BARTON OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

It will be a notable program offered by Madame Lillian Nordica at her concert tonight at the Barton Opera House. The superb artist is known as one of the greatest students of song literature in the world, and her program for this evening is a widely varied one. The concert platform seems to have a cliffing effect on the majority of opera singers, after the stage with its illusions and scenic accessories, and there are frequently disappointments in the environment, but Mme. Nordica shines as brightly in concert as in opera. She is too great an artist not to feel that she sings, and with her feeling must be expressed in movement, face and gesture as well as voice; she disdains the conventions of the concert platform and her songs are acted as well as sung. The program tonight will include a large number of English songs, as Mme. Nordica heartily improves of the movement towards singing in the vernacular. Mr. Whitney will be heard in a wide range of selections and Rosamund Simmons will play the Chopin "Polonaise".

Following is the program for tonight: 1—Piano Solo: Polonaise.....Chopin Mr. Simmons. 2—(a) Wistful.....Schumann (b) Die Lorelei.....Schumann Mr. Whitney. 3—(a) Two Japanese Songs..... Wakefield Cadman (b) Der Nussbaum.....Schumann (c) "Ich Grolle Nicht".....Schumann (d) Serenade.....Richard Strauss Mme. Nordica. 4—(a) "Amor, Amor".....Thirlwell (b) Canzone di Taurmina.....White Mr. Whitney. 5—(a) Mandoline.....Debussy (b) En Avril.....Webber (c) Arlette.....Vidal Mme. Nordica. 6—Duet from "Le Nozze di Figaro".....Mozart

Miss Nordica and Mr. Whitney, ENTERTAINMENT. 1—The Night Has a Thousand Eyes.....Turnbull (c) Kerry Dance.....Malloy Mr. Whitney. 2—(a) The Night Has a Thousand Eyes.....Turnbull (c) Kerry Dance.....Malloy Mr. Whitney. 3—(a) The Night Has a Thousand Eyes.....Turnbull (c) Kerry Dance.....Malloy Mr. Whitney. 4—(a) The Night Has a Thousand Eyes.....Turnbull (c) Kerry Dance.....Malloy Mr. Whitney. 5—(a) The Night Has a Thousand Eyes.....Turnbull (c) Kerry Dance.....Malloy Mr. Whitney. 6—(a) The Night Has a Thousand Eyes.....Turnbull (c) Kerry Dance.....Malloy Mr. Whitney. 7—(a) The Night Has a Thousand Eyes.....Turnbull (c) Kerry Dance.....Malloy Mr. Whitney. 8—(a) The Night Has a Thousand Eyes.....Turnbull (c) Kerry Dance.....Malloy Mr. Whitney. 9—(a) The Night Has a Thousand Eyes.....Turnbull (c) Kerry Dance.....Malloy Mr. Whitney. 10—(a) The Night Has a Thousand Eyes.....Turnbull (c) Kerry Dance.....Malloy Mr. Whitney. 11—The Night Has a Thousand Eyes.....Turnbull (c) Kerry Dance.....Malloy Mr. Whitney.

Great Dramatic Production

"The Girl of the Golden West," David Belasco's masterpiece, with Helen Vaughan and William Lytell, supported by the Alhambra Theatre Company, will be heard in a wide range of selections and Rosamund Simmons will play the Chopin "Polonaise".

Russian Imperial Artists

Gertrude Hoffman has supplied the English-speaking world with a sensation in the bringing to this country of the Russian Imperial artists, who will appear in Fresno at the Barton Opera House for one night, Monday, November 6th. Le Salon des Ballets Russes does not consist of the presentation of Russian dances, as those dances have been known to America. They are poetic interpretations by a gigantic organization of Imperial artists of the plastic drama. Three ballets constituting the entertainment are: "Cleopatra," a melodrama, telling a love tale concerning the famous queen; "Les Sylphides," a romantic comedy, and "Scherzaade," which has been called a night in a Persian harem. As an extra added feature, during her San Francisco engagement, Miss Hoffman will appear in her sensational Revue, including her impersonations of such stage celebrities as Ethel Barrymore, George M. Cohan, Eddie Foy, Harry Lauder, Ruth St. Denis, Isadora Duncan, Alice Lloyd, Anna Held, Eva Tanguay, and Yvonne Tarratt. Each impersonation is complete with scenery and costumes, and in some of them Miss Hoffman is assisted by her twelve beautiful Hoffman Girls. The price scale has been arranged the same as at the Cort Theater, San Francisco, where the company opened an engagement Monday night, Feb. 10, 1910. Manager R. C. Barton announces mail orders will now be accepted when accompanied by check or current funds, all such orders will be filled and filled in the order of receipt and held at the box office for call.

Kodaks and supplies. Finishing for amateurs. C. H. Staples, 1910 Mariposa street Fresno, Cal.

CHORUS GIRLS' CONTEST WILL ATTRACT THROGS TO TEAL'S THEATER TONIGHT

Some of Teal's Clever Chorus Girls who will display their individual abilities as an Extra Attraction Tonight.

"The Land of Manana," this week's bill at Teal's Theater, is a bumper and positively the best offering of the entire engagement. Fun reigns supreme every minute. Knight and Flinders are at their best in the Irish and Dutch roles as Theodore, Louis and Mike Casey. Their comedy is the best yet and keeps the house in an uproar of laughter. Raymond Teal as Gen. Camrose is a scream and his three song hits taken the house by storm.

DEMANDS DAMAGES FOR SON'S DEATH

Miss Helen Burnett brought suit yesterday against the Santa Fe railroad for $10,000 damages for the killing of her son, John, on the 18th of October a year ago by a freight train between Concho and Fresno city. She says that the locomotive was so negligently driven that his body was cut in two and he was killed. Mrs. Burnett declares that she was dependent in part on the son for support, that she was required to pay $100 for funeral expenses and besides has suffered damage in the sum of $10,000.

PERMITS TO BUILD

Permits were issued yesterday for the following new construction work: R. G. Jones, $2000 dwelling on lots 33-34, block 2 of Fresno Park. A. W. Hagley, $2000 6-room dwelling on lots 23-24, Reservoir. C. E. Gilbert, $900 dwelling on lots 7-8, Sierra North Park. E. J. Farr, $2000 dwelling on lots 41-42, block 2 of Fresno Park for A. E. Chrus. E. A. Belveal, $500 dwelling lot 6, block 39, Fairmount. P. A. C. Williams, $2900 dwelling on lots 21-23, block 1, Fresno Park for George S. Smith.

EAST FRESNO NEW TERRITORY TO HIM

Former City Trustee Suglian So Says in Damage Suit Answer.

Former City Trustee John Suglian answered yesterday the complaint of Hannah M. Mayhew who is suing him for $1500 damages for personal injuries alleged to have been sustained on the 27th of last March, when she says she was tripped or tangled up by a stake rope attached to a horse and lying across seventh street in East Fresno. Suglian denies her charges and while denying solemnly swears under oath that he has no information or belief that there is such an addition as East Fresno, or that there is a seventh street in the addition. Yet Mr. Suglian lives in East Fresno. He charges Mrs. Mayhew with contributory negligence, specifying "that the plaintiff well known and had for a long time prior thereto well known that said horse and other horses had been staked in the same place under the same conditions."

'AMATEUR CRACKSMAN' FULL OF EXCITEMENT

Thorne Players Act to Immense Audience at Empire.

Chief Thompson of the Thorne Players at the Empire theatre is starting this week in "The Amateur Cracksmen." The play is built about the character and it predominates through the four interesting acts. Thompson shows a new phase of his talent in the portrayal of the character of a man, rich in wealth and social position who steals for mere want of the excitement it affords and because it was born in his blood. His thefts go on for years and he always returns the articles stolen or gives them away for charity. In the theft of a valuable necklace from the woman whose guest he is, he arouses the suspicion of a clever amateur detective and is finally found out but cleverly escapes.

Frank Thorne is playing a clever character part in Captain Bedford and Lizetta Holdsworth is making good in the only really heavy character. The other members of the company are so well cast that every character is an important one and all keep the excitement up to a high pitch until the final curtain when "The Amateur Cracksmen" makes an amazing escape when it seems that all is lost for him. The play has pleased two audiences immensely and should prove as popular as last week's clever bill.

EXECUTIONS OUT IN ABBOTT RAISIN CASE

There's $79,000 on Hand, More Than Enough for 25 Per Cent Dividend.

Since the decision of the supreme court on September 1st, in the case of the California Raisin Growers' Association against Andrew L. Abbott and many other defendants, Association Bookkeeper Funch, says that approximately $79,000 has been taken by him on paid in judgments under the decision on the appeal. There is enough money, therefore, to declare a third dividend amounting to 25 per cent which would be a total of 90 per cent realized on the long pending claims with the two previous dividends of 25 and 10 per cent. The cost of paying out a 25 per cent dividend to declare which would require about $75,000 will cost as much in transportation, figuring and labor as a considerably larger sum, and for that reason the payment of the third dividend will probably be delayed until shortly before the Christmas season. Payments on judgments are coming in briskly, and there are several large claims out and unpaid which it is hoped will be liquidated very shortly to add to the total expended dividend payments. The dividend settlement will be made to about 800 claimants. The dividend expected about Christmas time will probably be the last one that may be looked for. In order to hurry up some of the judgments, Bookkeeper Funch began yesterday to take out executions, hoping thereby to accelerate hold back payments. Executions were taken out against the following named for the judgment sums indicated, plus 7 per cent interest computed from October 5, 1908. Emma M. Nye $562.19 E. A. Blodgett 277.44 Peter Andrian 249.51 Alexander Will 202.53 Sam Sam King 188.62 The above executions will be followed by others, taking up first those claims which because of property to be levied on are the easiest collectible. It so happened that yesterday also was placed on file the remittitur from the upper court in the Abbott case.

TAXES COMING IN SMALL PAYMENTS

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company and some of the other large corporations have written to the tax collector for their tax bills so that payments are looked for at an early date to swell the daily collections. Payments that are daily being made are by the small taxpayers and Cashier Smith reports that the larger number is paying both installments at one time. L. R. Church was the largest individual taxpayer yesterday, setting for $13,155. The day's collections amounted to $574.49 distributed as follows: State and county $379.36, Fresno City $175.05, Selma $134.7, Coalinga $105.40, Kingsburg $92.66 and Fowler $14.55.

THINK IT OVER!

Over seventy legal reserve Fire Insurance Companies doing business in California in 1910, only three of them were California Companies. Is there room for another home company? Think It Over.

In the last ten years statistics prove that the fire insurance business in California has practically trebled.

In no sense has the introduction into this line of business kept place with its growth. Why not? Think It Over.

Statistics prove that during the year of 1910 that after paying all losses, commissions and expenses the Companies operating in California cleaned up a net profit of over five millions of dollars or enough to show an earning of over ten per cent on fifty millions of capital. Does California offer good field in which another home company may successfully and profitably operate? Think It Over.

The San Joaquin Valley contributed in premiums two millions of dollars to the fire companies in 1910. The same ratio of profit applying that govern results in the state shows that this valley alone contributed to the net profits made the enormous sum of $700,000.00.

Don't you think it would be to our advantage to keep this money at home? THINK IT OVER.

Analyze the above figures and learn that during the year of 1910 the San Joaquin Valley contributed to the profits of the Fire Insurance Companies for each individual minute approximately $1.33 for each individual hour of 1910 $80.00 and for each day of that year $1920 and for each week $13,440 and for each month in the neighborhood of $58,000. When it is within our power to stop a drain of this volume; should we do it? Think It Over.

If these figures are facts can you figure where any man in the San Joaquin Valley can consistently withhold his support from the Pacific National Fire Insurance Company now being financed in the City of Fresno? Think It Over.

Insurance Commissioner Hotchkiss of the State of New York within the last few months made the statement publicly that "the need for new fire insurance companies is more serious than the need for bread." When an authority of this high character makes such an assertion, isn't it worth our consideration? THINK IT OVER.

The Pacific National Fire Insurance Company invites your co-operation and is justified in predicting for you handsome returns for your support. A home company, financed with home money, officered and directed by home men, selected by you. Isn't it a golden opportunity and doesn't it deserve your support? THINK IT OVER.

Give it an expression of your support and consideration by cutting out and mailing in the coupon to be found herewith.

MERCHANTS FAVOR HIGHWAY ALONG KEARNEY AVE.

Resolution Passed Urging State Commission to Consider This Route.

Association Also Recommends That Belmont Ave. Be Widened.

The board of directors of the Fresno Merchants' Association went on record yesterday in favoring a route for the state highway into Fresno by way of Skaggs bridge, Madera avenue and Kearney avenue. In the final resolution drawn up and passed the Merchants' Association gave favorable consideration to the recommendation of the supervisors as to the use of Kearney avenue. The resolution was as follows:

Whereas, the matter of the location of the proposed state highway through Fresno county, having been referred to the directors of the Fresno Merchants' Association, and Whereas, the said directors having given careful consideration to the several proposed routes with a view to intelligent action, and Whereas, Kearney avenue, about eleven miles in length, is one of the most magnificent drives in the world, leading as it does to Kearney Park, now owned and operated as an agricultural experiment station by the state university, and destined soon to become the seat of a great agricultural school, be it respectfully resolved, That we respectfully urge the State Highway Commission to give favorable consideration to the recommendation of the board of supervisors of Fresno county, that said state highway be constituted via Skaggs bridge, Madera avenue and Kearney avenue, through the city of Fresno.

WANT BELMONT WIDENED

On the request of a committee headed by Henry Pearson, the Merchants' Association passed a resolution recommending to the city trustees that Belmont avenue be widened so that it will be 50 feet from curb to curb.

The credit system committee reported that the Merchants' Association's system now contains more than 9000 names with more than 16,000 ratings. It was decided at the meeting to co-operate with similar organizations in Fresno county in the use of this credit system.

Some informal talk was indulged in regarding a commercial club, but no definite action was taken. It was announced, however, that a conference with representatives of various civic organizations about the city will be held in the near future to discuss the proposition.

Reedley Citizens Appoint 3 as Committee to Look Into Question.

REEDLEY, Oct. 17.—At a meeting of citizens here tonight, in the office of D. L. McKee, initial steps were taken looking to the formation of a co-operative telephone company in Reedley. A committee consisting of Lucas Keyser, T. M. Lane and Carson Reed was appointed to take up the question of organization and see what can be done toward taking over the present telephone system.

The meeting was well attended and the matter was thoroughly discussed. E. K. Smith called the meeting to order and Lucas Keyser was chosen chairman. Keyser told of his experience with co-operative telephone systems and others gave their ideas on the subject.

Normal School Student Body Plans to Form Organization

The Student and the Faculty of the Normal school have been in friendly relations since the early part of the term, but plans have now been made to form an association of the entire student body. A committee has been appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws for the new organization. On Wednesday, October 18th, the following nominations were made for the various offices: President, Adèle Hume; Vice-President, Margaret Kenyon; Secretary, Molly McNeil; Treasurer, Mr. Brown; Elizabeth Marchant, Mr. Leebetter.

Fresno County Teacher Lands Old Job After Many Mishaps

Miss S. V. Kline, who is a well-known teacher in this county, having taught for seven years in the Eastern district school, is installed fast and secure as principal of the Riverside school. She is in the position after a remarkable series of errors and mishaps which came very near leaving her without any school appointment for the current term. Probably no teacher has had a similar experience in so brief a period.

Miss Kline was chosen before the recent opening of the school term as principal of the Riverside school, but went to San Francisco during the vacation season, took the examination and successfully passed to go on the substitute list, which means for a time only irregular employment. Thereupon she resigned the Riverside principalship and went on her vacation near Baltimore, Md., after notifying the trustees.

While away, word was received from San Francisco that her services would not be called for, for probably one year, and so she wrote back here to Mr. Lindsay to seek out a school for her. The Riverside principalship having been vacated, had been filled on her resignation. Riverside district now lacked a principal. Would Miss Kline accept? She would, and she telegraphed her acceptance. Very shortly after word was received that she could not come on at once because of the sudden illness of a brother, and could the offer be held in abeyance? It was, because the district was considering a

Judge Austin Recalls Prison Sentence on Jap; Grants Parole

Although he had pronounced sentence of a year's imprisonment on Y. Masakaka, a Japanese, for forgery, Judge Austin recalled the sentence and granted parole when he had heard the man's statement.

Masakaka had pleaded guilty to forging a check of $100 on August 7th last, and had been sentenced when he took the witness stand to be questioned, according to custom, regarding his antecedents, and the information elicited the judge changed his mind, declaring that although he had not asked for it, he considered the unfortunate Jap as much entitled to the consideration of a probationary release as any other others who are enjoying that privilege.

Masakaka showed that he had made full restitution of the money, and that his incarceration would have helped him with two children, aged 2 years, and a mother who was alone on a ranch west of Fresno City.

The sentence was recalled and Masakaka will undoubtedly be released on parole this morning.

SEWARD CASE TAKEN UNDER CONSIDERATION

Many Are of Opinion That Case Will Be Dropped in Town Court.

Police Judge Briggs yesterday took the case of Thomas C. Seward, second vice president of the State Federation of Labor who is charged with extortion, under advisement until some day in the near future. While no intimation was made by the magistrate it is the opinion of many that the case will be dropped in town court and never reach the Superior Court. The preliminary examination was held yesterday in the police court and it took the entire day to examine the witnesses.

Seward is alleged to have forced C. S. Salling, manager of the S. and C. Opera house, to pay $2500 under threat that the then employee would be called from the theater if the money was not paid. Seward claimed that that sum was due Miss Agnes Burr, a vaudeville actress whose engagement was cancelled by the Salling brothers after Miss Burr had appeared on the stage one night. Salling claimed that the money was paid for the Salling engagement but Seward declared that the actress was entitled to full pay whether she fulfilled her contract or not.

The union employees left the theater just before time for the curtain to rise and pickets were placed in front of the theater. The union men then moved to Seward, who was acting as a representative of the White Rats' union, which is affiliated with the Federated Trades.

It was brought out in the testimony yesterday that Seward had nothing to do with the strike at the theater but that the union men had decided to walk out if the salary was not paid to the actress. The trouble occurred on August 9.

Sam Salling was the principal witness for the prosecution. He testified that Seward had approached him while he was in the ticket office and that he had refused the union labor representative to his brother, C. J. Salling and Jack Salling also testified as to the trouble at the theater on the night of the strike. They all declared that the money had been paid to Seward through fear that he would ruin their business by calling a strike just at the time for the performance.

Walter Hinder and Norman Elchberger, witnesses, testified that they had heard the pickets in front of the theater stop people on the way to the box office and tell them that the show house was on the unfair list. C. H. Marsh, who was selling ice cream in front of the theater, testified as to what he saw and heard during the argument between Seward and the Salling brothers, Ashley Cooper, a traveling salesman, testified that he heard Seward and Salling talking in high tones.

Judge M. K. Harris and Deputy District Attorney Frank Curtin prosecuted the case while Attorneys Darbous and Thomas R. Thomson represented Seward.

EIGHT YEAR OLD BOY TRAVELS ALONE

Thinking that he had to change cars in Fresno, Arthur Stallman, 8 years of age, yesterday morning stepped off the Southern Pacific train at this city and ran into the office of Patrolman Dugg. The boy was traveling from Los Angeles to Los Angeles via Fresno. When in Los Angeles the boy informed the officer of his destination the patrolman picked him up and placed him back on the steps as he had not supposed to change cars in Fresno.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS CLASH WITH CITY POLICEMEN

Car Inspector Is Relieved of Gun; Espee Demands Return of Weapon.

Espee Plans Moving Picture Show in Yards for Strikebreakers.

Southern Pacific officials and the city police clashed last night for the first time since the strike was called. The trouble started at 11:15 o'clock, shortly before the two pulled in. Approaching one of the strikebreakers in the yards near the depot, Eugene Forner and Jack Broad, patrolmen in the city police department, asked him if he had a gun on his person. The man replied that he had.

The patrolmen demanded the gun, whereupon the man reached under his coat and produced the weapon. Patrolman Forner then took possession of the revolver, belt and holster which the man had worn around his waist. The gun, belt and holster were taken to the police station. A few minutes later the telephone wires between the depot and police headquarters were carrying an ultimatum from both sides.

RAILROAD MEN BUSY

The attention of Assistant Superintendent Dadds and A. P. Ady, chief detective, was called by several guards, who immediately grabbed the telephone and informed Desk Sergeant Truax that the police must return the gun or there would be trouble. At this point a dispute arose as to the identity of the man who had carried the revolver.

Dadds informed the police over the phone that the man is employed as a car inspector and guard, therefore he had a right to carry a gun.

WAS MAN A GUARD?

In reply Patrolman Forner and Broad declared the man had admitted to them that he is not a guard and had been employed as a car inspector only. The officers said they did not ask for the gun until after the man had said he was no guard. Desk Sergeant Truax later phoned to Assistant Superintendent Dadds that if the railroad officials obtained a permit from Chief of Police Jones the man would be allowed to carry a gun.

WILL PREFER CHARGES.

This explanation did not pacify the railroad men, who declared they would prefer charges against Forner and Broad before the police commission. Dadds in a statement issued at midnight declared the police have no authority to enter private property and search a man without a warrant. The officers admitted they had no warrant, but suspected that the car inspector carried a gun, and for this reason arrested him.

GUN NOT RETURNED.

At a late hour the gun had not been returned by the police and it was stated that the weapon would be kept at the station until today when Chief Jones would be consulted. The police were firm in their stand that the car inspector had no right to carry a gun without a written permit from Chief Jones. Southern Pacific officials were equally as certain that the city police had made the wrong move and the offending patrolmen would suffer as a result. In his statement, Assistant Superintendent Dadds declared the car inspector has been used as a guard in the yards since the strike began. Dadds contended that this fellow has as much right to carry a gun as any watchman on the street. In his final message over the telephone to the police station, Dadds asked the officers not to molest the Espee guards and other employees or "there would be trouble."

LONGS TO S. P.

Officers Ady and Beck of the State police and Dadds said they would postpone the matter until today when they would take action if the police did not return the gun. We are ready to return the gun to the S. P., the police have no right to molest Southern Pacific property. That gun belongs to the railroad company and the car inspector in his capacity as a night watchman has a perfect right to carry it or any other gun.

While the controversy may not be taken into the courts, it is likely that the Southern Pacific officials will prosecute against Patrolmen Forner and Broad.

HIGH OFFICIALS HERE.

Two high officials of the Espee passed through Fresno last night. They were P. Shively, superintendent of the motive department at Los Angeles, and R. D. Nauman, division engineer at Berkeleyfield. Shively was accompanied by his wife and daughter, en route to San Francisco. Shively stated that the situation, as far as the Southern Pacific is concerned, is unchanged and all is quiet at Berkeleyfield and Los Angeles. He said the strike did not bother the company in the least and the service had not been interrupted in any shape or form.

TWO NEW HOUSES.

Locally preparations are being made for housing additional strikebreakers. Yesterday work was started on two more houses in the stockade near the roundhouse. When complete they will contain a total of four which are to be used exclusively for new employees in the yards, car shops and roundhouse. The houses will be of wood with cement floors, city water and sewer connections, hot and cold shower and tub, bath, table, playing cards, books, newspapers and magazines.

MOVING PICTURE SHOW.

Next week it is planned to install a moving picture show in one of the houses. The films and machine will be sent here from San Francisco. Dadds will erect a screen at one end of the house and personally operate the machine. He will be assisted by Detective Ady. The entire car in the upper yards is running night and day with three cooks and six waiters employed.

STRIKERS ARE PRAISED.

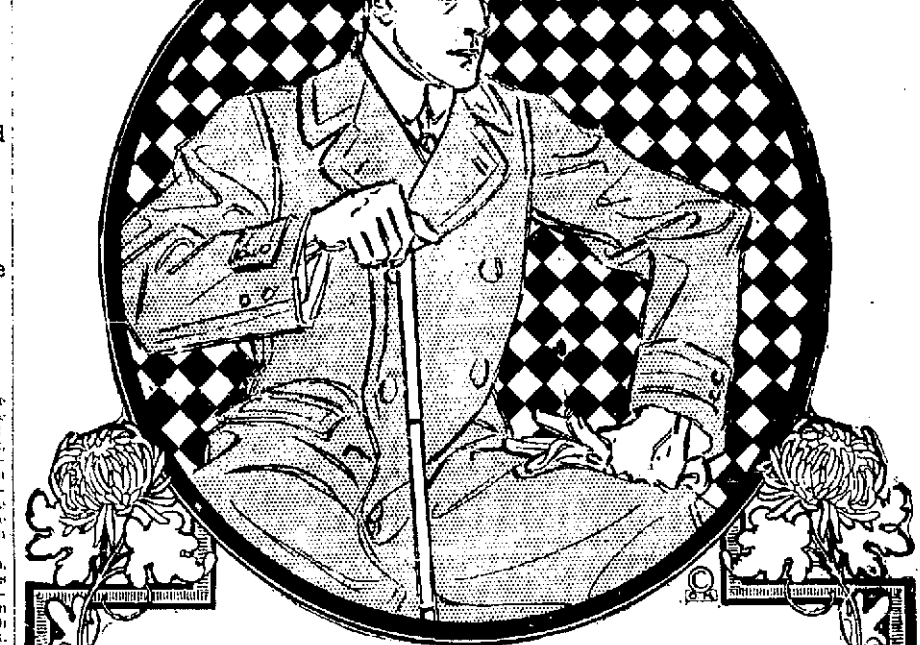

One of the features of the strike yesterday was the presence in Fresno of William Hammond, international vice president of the Machinists' Union. Hammond's headquarters are at Chicago. Yesterday afternoon he addressed sixty local strikers at Union hall, asking them to be brave and fight to the bitter end as the men are sure of winning. Hammond declared the hardman lines are crippled beyond a doubt in his mind and although railroad officials are putting up a hot front their service is bad and the rolling stock is worse. He said trains are late because the company is short handed and unable to get enough men to handle the cars.

Local strike leaders are planning to give a benefit dance for the union men within the next two weeks.
